JAPANESE ARE THROWN BACK ON BATAAN AFTER SAVAGE ASSAULT PIERCES LINES

Atlanta's Water Supply Vulnerable To Saboteurs

Perfect Target Day or Night, Reporter Finds

By LAMAR Q. BALL.

A billion gallons of water, Atlanta's priceless protection from fires, disease, thirst and death, lie virtually unguarded today against sabotage plots by enemy agents.

A few weeks ago, an officer of the armed services circled in a plane over the two giant reservoirs on the northwest fringe of the city and marveled at the glistening target for an enemy bomb that was spread over 60 acres below him.

He circled and swooped and swept round and round over the Atlanta Waterworks System, dropping lower and lower in each successive circle. A companion in the plane took photographs as the plane eased down and down until it was within 300 feet of the vast lakes.

The aviator could see men on the ground, but no one paid any attention to his plane or to him, other than an occasional glance upward at the skimming plane. They could have seen his companion taking pictures.

An Easy Target. No one did anything. He flew back to his airport and checked to find if anyone had inquired about the strange plane flying dangerously near the city's most vital source of life. There hadn't been a word—and wasn't any even after 48 hours later.

From the plane, the observer had noted dikes that could be blown out with bomb holes that would drain the reservoirs in an hour or so. For the weeks of labor necessary for the repair of the shattered dikes and the refilling of the empty reservoirs, a population of approximately a half-million men, women and children would be without water.

A city that records approximately 15 fires a day would be without means of fighting these fires. A city that uses approximately a billion gallons of water a day in households, in manufacturing and in thousands of other outlets, would be without water.

Out of this startling revelation yesterday came the more frightening discovery that a city that spends $11,000,000 a year for its costs of management is leaving its waterworks system virtually unguarded against enemy plotters for the mere saving of a few thousand dollars.

Easy for Saboteur. A reporter and a photographer from The Constitution spent the afternoon checking the story of the curious aviator.

The threat to the Atlanta waterworks system, they found, is not half so dangerous from the air as it is from the ground. They found the two 48-inch intake mains, that bring the water from the Chattahoochee pumping plant to the purification plants, could be dynamited any night by a resourceful Nazi—even though a policeman stands on guard all night and all day at the spot that is a natural for a lurking Nazi with a grim impulse.

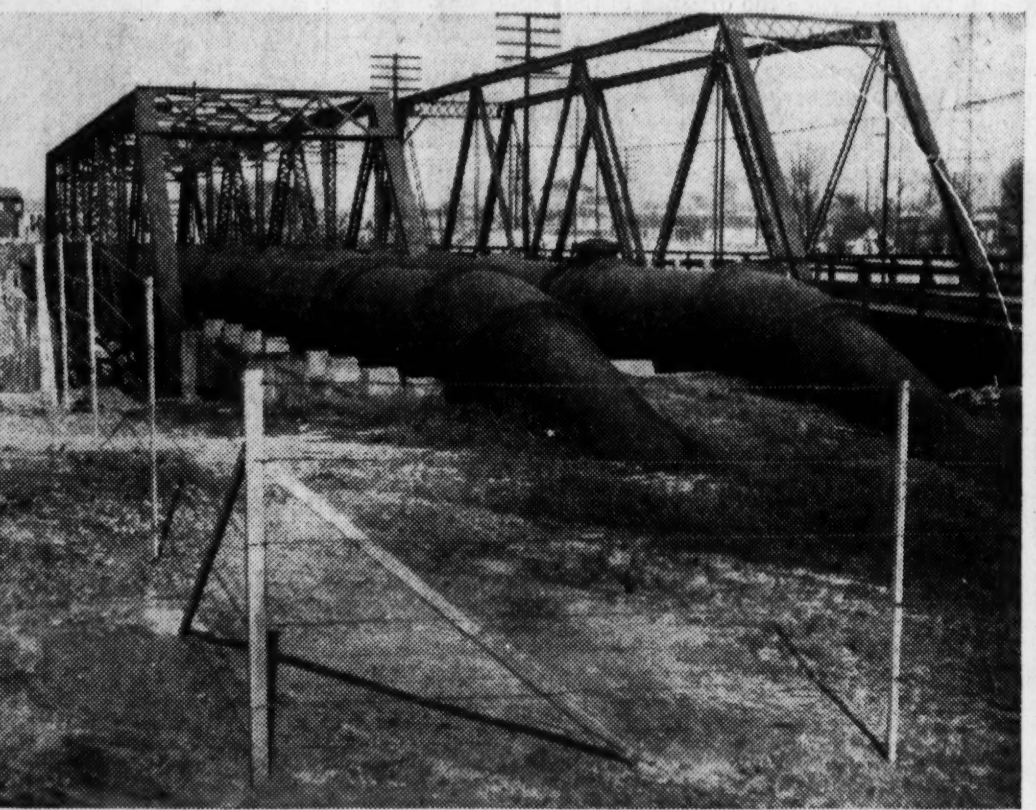

The policeman, who is one of three maintaining a 24-hour watch over the pipes as they cross over the Seaboard Railway tracks at Chattahoochee avenue, said: "I can walk around here all night, but if someone wanted to plant some dynamite under those mains he could do it without my hearing him."

"The city won't put up lights. We need a couple of floodlights and a policeman at each end of these pipes where they are exposed. A man with dynamite could crawl up the bank from those railroad tracks, plant the bomb on the steel and concrete supports where the jawder would be given a lift—and that would be the end of the water supply."

The policeman maintains his watch from a sort of sentry box at

NO TRESPASSING?—Insufficient guards at the Atlanta water works system leaves the roads encircling the city's two huge and only sources of water open to casual motorists, as the dotted lines show. The dotted line at the left marks the path of a tour taken by a Constitution reporter and photographer yesterday. An employee stopped them at the circle—indicating a sentry box—and warned them not to come inside again. "You've gone this far," said the guard, "so go on." The path they took in getting out is shown in the continued dotted line. The trail at the lower right center shows how the automobile was driven up to the main door of the plant, with only a cheery wave from the guard at the spot marked X. This aerial photograph was taken and released by an officer of the armed services.

WHERE GUARDS ARE NEEDED—The exposed source of Atlanta's full water supply. The 48-inch steel pipes are in a complete blackout at night and an unidentified stranger was enabled yesterday to scramble all over the spot where the mains cross the Seaboard Railway on Chattahoochee avenue.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(P)—and fluorescent lighting fixtures for nonessential uses and gave notice that civilian use of copper would soon be further curtailed. The order forbidding future production of fluorescent lighting fixtures except under top-rated priority orders allowed manufacturers 20 days in which to fill orders on which work already has started.

An immediate halt was called to production of tin-plated caps for bottles containing ketchup and chili sauce, and for glass containers used in home preserving. After four weeks, manufacture of such caps for beer and soft drink bottles must be stopped as well as production of tin-plated covers for glass containers for candy, peanut butter, coffee, tea, dry spices and some other products.

Officials explained that manufacturers could make the bottle caps from the steel plate ordinarily used but without the tin plating.

Weather To Grow Warmer Today

Still warmer weather is forecast for Atlanta and vicinity today by the weatherman. Highest temperature yesterday was 65 degrees, and the law was 35.

Even Home-Made Cuffs On Trousers Barred

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(P)—Even homemade cuffs on trousers are out, the War Production Board cautioned today.

Under orders effective yesterday persons are prohibited from buying suits or trousers at retail, having them delivered with the trousers unfinished, and having cuffs put on them at home or by a local tailor.

WPB called attention to a paragraph in the cloth-saving order which reads: "No person shall finish a pair of trousers made of wool cloth with cuffs or cause such to be finished with cuffs by others for his account."

Many Enemy Units Trapped As Gap Closes

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(P)—A savage onslaught by Japanese assault troops succeeded today in penetrating the defense line on Bataan peninsula before the invaders were halted by a fierce American-Filipino counterattack.

The War Department reported reassuringly, however, that the line was restored, and a "considerable number" of enemy units trapped. These were being mopped up late in the day, Lieutenant General Jonathan M. Wainwright advised.

Meantime, the anti-aircraft gunners of Corregidor fortress off the southern end of Bataan destroyed three Japanese heavy bombers and a fourth blew up in midair.

Second in 24 Hours. The attack which penetrated the defenders' main line was the second launched in 24 hours, a late day communiqué said. The first, made near the center, was readily mastered by heavy artillery fire and counterattacks which regained outposts that had been abandoned to the foe.

The second, launched about 10 a. m., was directed against the left center of General Wainwright's line. Supported by a heavy concentration of artillery fire, the Japanese assault troops advanced dangerously, the War Department made clear, before the spearhead of the assault was smashed by a counterattack which trapped the advance forces.

"Our main line of resistance has been restored and the enemy advance halted," the communiqué reported, adding that while Japanese losses were heavy, the defenders' casualties were "surprisingly small."

Alert for Sea Attack. The onslaughts were the second and third to be made in rapid succession by Lieutenant General Tomoyuki Yamashita's reinforced invasion forces and indicated strongly to observers that the Japanese were intent on ending the Philippine stalemate of more than three months.

The four bombers raised the definite Japanese losses over the Manila Bay fortifications to 32. The air raids were accompanied by further artillery duels with Japanese batteries on the south shore of the bay.

Enemy air raids on beach defenses of Bataan put General Wainwright's forces on the alert for an attempted Japanese flanking attack by sea.

The War Department reported that strong points along the western shore of the rugged peninsula were bombed as yesterday's frustrated major land attack dwined.

WHERE'S THAT BUTTER?—Cook Frank Griffin, of the Ansley kitchen staff, has the bread somewhere in this litter of charred plaster and water-soaked goose liver. It was all toasted for him, too, in the fire which broke out in the kitchen yesterday. The fire was an exaggerated case of burnt grease—familiar to most housewives sooner or later.

Corregidor Score: 66 Jap Planes

By DEAN SCHEDLER.

CORREGIDOR, P. I., March 31. (Delayed)—(P)—Corregidor's accurate anti-aircraft guns shot down 12 Japanese planes in the last week, making a total of 66 bagged by the island fortress' guns since the start of the war.

The figures are taken from the scorebook, which lists only confirmed losses inflicted on the enemy.

A War Department communiqué today, April 2, listed four more bombers shot down over Manila Bay fortifications, but placed the definite number of Japanese losses at 32.

The 16th Coast Artillery anti-aircraft units are over-careful in crediting the batteries with hits and with recording planes actually downed. Planes are marked as down only after this has been confirmed by observation.

During the past week, and since the start of the war, they have demonstrated they can dish it out to the enemy, as well as take it. According to Major T. K. Mc-Nair, of Red Bank, N. J., Corregidor has undergone more than 120 actual air raids since December 29, with the longest raid, of more than six hours, this last week.

Japanese planes, operating from a near-by Luzon Island base, place Corregidor in a state of almost continuous alarm, although each day the flyers have evidenced a growing respect for the anti-aircraft guns. Flights as a result have diminished in size from 27-plane formations to sorties by one and two planes at a time.

As the size of the flights diminished, the planes also climbed higher, forcing the anti-aircraft units to their utmost to pick the bomb-laden tiny specks out of the sky. The hard pounding given Corregidor the last week has provided the fullest test men and material can face in fighting an enemy on uneven terms and matching air power with ground guns.

Searchlights aid the gunners at night in keeping Japanese bombers pushed wide of the target areas.

One battery, under the command of Captain C. R. Ames, of Rockaway Beach, N. Y., has been dishing it out to the enemy while ducking not only bombs but also artillery shells from the Cavite shore across the bay.

Last evening I was talking to Ames and found his men all bronzed and in high spirits. A few minutes before they had assisted in some of the best shooting yet.

Two bombers were flying over Corregidor at dusk. The gun crew under Sergeant E. J. Swanson, of Lewistown, Mont., was given the order to fire. Four rapid shots from each battery roared into the sky. The first bomber was hit near one of its motors. The wing broke off, sending the plane plunging into the bay and a cloud of smoke. The action required only a few moments of intense fire. All the gun crews had been undergoing the same thing all week, in addition to taking a shelling themselves.

The score for this particular raid was "two up, two down, all clear."

Compromise Plan Indicated In Indian Crisis

NEW DELHI, India, April 2.—(P)—With Japanese invaders reported barely 100 miles from the Bengal border, the pressing problem of India's fighting participation in the war appeared tonight to have been saved from a cold stalemate by indications of willingness to compromise on details of the independence issue.

The executive committee of the powerful all-India congress party rejected, point by point, Britain's offer of post-war dominion status in return for full war participation under British direction, but it was reported to have advanced its own counter proposals, which might keep the discussions going.

The exchange telegraph agency in London said Indian moderate leaders had received tentative assurance that the formula for defense co-ordination advanced by the moderate Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru would be acceptable to Cripps. This formula was said to call for a minister of defense co-ordination with a small defense council including the commander-in-chief and presided over by a minister. The council would deal with civilian defense and internal security.

Sir Stafford Cripps, special envoy who brought Britain's offer to India, changed his mind about leaving for home next Monday. He declared, instead, that "I think I can possibly do something useful next week."

Vengeance Killer, 20, Sentenced for Life

PONTIAC, Mich., April 2.—(P)—For two years Dominic Piccone festered in prison and planned his vengeance against his 71-year-old benefactor.

Tonight he is back in prison, sentenced to spend the rest of his life at hard labor and solitary confinement because he carried out his vengeance.

Piccone had promised to return and kill Cassius Barber when he got out of prison, and he did it—one of three killings carried out in a 24-hour period Tuesday and Wednesday, during a 900-mile tour of the state.

Taken into circuit court before Judge H. Russell Holland, he pleaded guilty and was given the most severe punishment possible under Michigan law—life at hard labor and solitary confinement.

Piccone, who is 20, signed a formal confession before he was taken into court. In it he related how he had been "farmed out" to Barber as a juvenile delinquent; how he had been treated as a member of the family until there was some trouble with the old man over spending money; how he finally beat the old man and fled; how he stole a pistol from Barber and later used it to force a young school teacher to drive him from Detroit to near Barber's farm, where he intended to kill the farmer; how she had fallen and he was convicted of felonious assault because of her injury, and how Barber at his trial had identified the stolen gun. All that was two years ago.

Then, March 17, of this year, he was released from prison at the expiration of maximum sentence and with $18 in his pocket he bought a gun.

Tuesday night he went out to the Barber farm in the rain and the Barber family was sitting at the home of Romaine C. Potter, 75, Barber's cousin, who lived a quarter of a mile from Barber's home. Piccone said he wanted to get dry.

But, his confession went on, Potter realized what Piccone intended doing—killing Barber, and wrestled with him.

"I pulled the trigger," Piccone said. Potter dropped dead.

He walked, then, to Barber's home, where he found Roy Thorpe, another neighbor farmer, who had just driven into the yard.

Piccone forced Thorpe to enter Barber's home side by side with him. Barber was sitting at a table reading, his wife nearby.

"Mr. Barber said 'It's you,'" Piccone said in his confession. "And I said 'Yes.' He noticed the gun and I said 'I told you I was going to do it.' He (Barber) raised his hand and I shot."

Piccone then forced Thorpe to drive him on a 900-mile tour of the state during which he killed Carl McKenzie 40, near Concord, Mich., 90 miles from the scene of the original crimes. McKenzie had approached Piccone and Thorpe where they had stopped to rest.

Piccone surrendered to state police without a struggle when he was accosted at 3:30 o'clock this morning. He confessed, pleaded guilty and was on his way to prison 12 hours later.

Farish Denies Any Attempt At Monopoly

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(P)—Officials of Standard Oil Company acknowledged today that the company sought 1939-40 to prevent individual companies from undertaking development of synthetic rubber for use in tires, but said this policy was adopted in the belief that large-scale development could be achieved only by co-operative action of the major rubber companies.

This testimony was given to the Senate Defense Investigating Committee by W. S. Farish, president, and F. A. Howard, vice president, of the company.

Denies Monopoly. Denying that the objective of the company's policy was to maintain a monopoly control over synthetic rubber processes acquired from I. G. Farben, the company's German associate, the officials asserted that they had taken the lead in attempting to develop synthetic rubber in the United States and had followed a policy recommended by the Army and Navy munitions board.

"We didn't see how synthetic rubber could ever compete with natural rubber," Howard told the committee, "unless all the interested parties pitched in and tried to make a go of it as a co-operative matter."

As a result of this belief and the concurrence of the Army and Navy, Howard said, when Standard acquired control of Farben's patents in this country in 1939, it issued only "stop-gap" licenses to

Roosevelt Approves Weddell's Retirement

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, the White House disclosed today, has agreed to the retirement of Alexander W. Weddell as ambassador to Spain. Weddell, now in this country on leave, notified the chief executive on March 28 that he was preparing to undergo an operation and his physician said a lengthy period of convalescence and observation would be necessary afterward. He said his return to Spain could not take place, under the most favorable circumstances, for some months.

Expressing a hope for complete restoration of the ambassador's health, the chief executive said he would call upon him for service again when he was well.

WHERE LIGHTS ARE NEEDED—The main intake pipes, bringing water to the purification plants from the Chattahoochee river, are shown as they cross the Seaboard tracks at Chattahoochee avenue. "There's not a light in the neighborhood," said a policeman. "We can't hear at night because of the railroad cars bumping up and down the tracks. They need floodlights and a man at each end of the bridge to do a thorough job."

Atlanta Water Supply Target For Saboteurs

one end of the bridge that the water pipes parallel.

"I can't see 10 feet at night," the policeman said. "With those box cars being switched back and forth right under the pipes, I couldn't hear somebody trying to sabotage if he were to yell at me. He could get down there and hammer and hammer until his dynamite was properly placed and I wouldn't know a thing about it until the whole business was blasted into the air."

"If they'd only spend just a few dollars to put up a couple of floodlights, I might do a better job of guarding. But it's wasting the time and the expense of a policeman having him standing out here all night—just hoping something doesn't happen."

A quarter of a mile away, where guards are stationed at irregular intervals around the giant lakes, a lackadaisical gesture toward sentry duty is maintained.

Just off Howell Mill road at the main entrance to the plant, a policeman sits inside the sentry box and waves a cheery greeting to anyone who enters.

"I'm going over to the office," the driver of the strange automobile told the policeman.

The policeman, without leaving his seat, waves him on. Where the giant dikes hold the waters of the lake, a roadway encircles one of the reservoirs. Through this well passes all the water that goes to the city of Atlanta.

Over behind one reservoir is a Negro settlement, known as Blandtown. Any one walking through Blandtown at night could get behind another dike, and tunnel his way to a strategic spot for a dynamite explosion that would empty this huge lake of its 500,000,000 gallons of water.

A similar dike on the other reservoir could be approached through a rock quarry off Northside drive.

The unguarded condition of the entire waterworks system, according to Manager W. Zode Smith, has been reported, but, he said last night:

"We don't seem to be able to get ample guards."

Three shifts of policemen from the city force are out there manning the occasional sentry boxes, during the day.

By night, a squad of State Defense Home Guards—15 men—patrols the area with rifles and bayonets.

"But," said an official last night, "we need about 50 men to do a thoroughgoing job."

Suggest Military Basis. "They were going to put floodlights up," said one of the guards. "They were going to put more men out here at the rate of $2.50 a day each. But the question of raising the salaries of city employees came up and the whole business was forgotten."

The failure of the present system of a city police guard was explained.

"Guard duty should be handled here as it is in the Army—two hours on and four hours off, 24 hours a day on a military basis."

"You can't expect an elderly policeman to stand in one spot for eight hours at a time," said a waterworks official. "His job becomes tiring and boring. Such a job would bore any human being."

As a result of this present plan, the policemen get careless and forget what they're out here for.

The laxity of the present system was illustrated when the reporter and the photographer wandered all around the reservoirs and the pipelines, climbing up and down embankments, taking pictures, without being accosted by a single guard.

A Negro in Blandtown was asked:

"Are these levees lighted up at night?"

"No, sir."

"Is it dark down here behind these levees?"

"It's mighty dark."

"Do they have a patrol walking around the lakes at night?"

"No, sir."

The problem of the careless guard over the waterworks system was put up to former Mayor LeCraw, said the officer of the armed services. The mayor laid the whole proposal in the lap of the commanders of the Fourth Corps Area and the Army immediately dumped the issue back into the lap of the mayor.

"This will have to be a community or a state problem," the Army told the mayor. "If we were to have soldiers guarding all the

A VITAL SPOT—This view of a dike was sighted from the Negro settlement of Blandtown on the edge of the water works. The house far in the background is the sentry box. "The barbed wire fence," said a neighbor,

"will keep out nothing but a cow or a horse." Neighbors also testified the sloping side of the dike is shrouded in utter darkness at night, with no one patrolling the road atop the dike. Note the distance to the sentry box.

Elliott To Head Bomber Plant Policing Force

A leave of absence to permit Patrolman J. J. Elliott to organize and head a police force for the Bell bomber plant, was granted last night by the police committee.

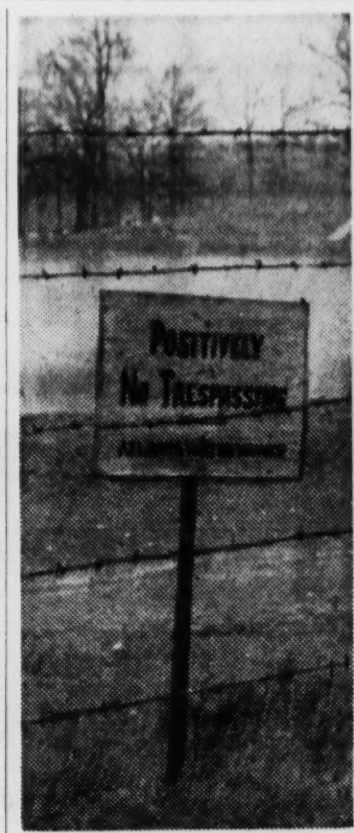

Elliott, who resigned several months ago as commanding officer of the state patrol, has been a member of the Atlanta police department for several years. A graduate of the police traffic school, an expert with rifle and pistol and a first aid instructor, Elliott aided in conducting many of the police training schools.

He will organize and head a police force consisting of about 100 men, members of the committee were told.

The name of J. T. Dailey, DeKalb county's police chief, which is carried on the police department's roster, was dropped to the bottom of the supernumerary list last night at his request. His name has been dropped to the bottom of the list on several previous occasions since Chief Dailey was placed at the head of the DeKalb county police force.

Thumbprints on all pawn tickets will not be required as a result of the committee advising a proposed ordinance requiring the prints.

The committee set up as regulars four supernumerary patrolmen. Those named as regulars were J. B. Cooper, H. G. Mann, R. W. Gilstrap and J. H. Harper.

Ernest Billings Bound Over in Accident Case

Ernest Billings, 43-year-old Negro, of 125 Vine street, was bound over in recorder's court yesterday on four charges resulting from an accident several weeks ago in which Mary Magbee, 14, and her brother, Fred Magbee, 20, of 269 Ormond street, S. E., were injured.

The girl was credited with saving her invalid brother's life at the expense of injuries to herself when she pushed him out of the way of an automobile when it got out of control on Ormond street near Hill street.

She suffered a broken right shoulder and lacerations and her brother was bruised about the legs when the car left the street and struck them as they were walking on the sidewalk.

Billings was charged with reckless driving, having an accident, leaving the scene, having no driver's license, and speeding 70 or 80 miles an hour. His bond was placed at $1,100.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 2.—(AP)—Ray Edmundson, a close friend of John L. Lewis and Illinois president of the United Mine Workers of America, resigned today as state regional director of the CIO.

"I've tried to get an ample guard," said W. Zode Smith last night, "but I haven't had any luck. I have to do the best with what I have."

25,000 Nazis Said Killed Within 10 Days

Reds Attack Violently in Prelude to Spring Campaign.

MOSCOW, Friday, April 3.—(AP) The Russians announced officially today that more than 22,000 Germans had been killed in the Leningrad and Kalinin sectors in a violent Red prelude to Adolf Hitler's threatening spring attempt to smash the Soviet Union.

Taken with an announcement yesterday, today's official statements reported a total of 25,000 Nazis killed on these two fronts in recent fighting.

Twelve thousand Nazis were slain in the Leningrad area between March 23 and March 31, a special communique said. A regular communique issued at noon yesterday said that 3,000 Germans had been killed in the last two days, indicating the growing ferocity of the battles around the approaches to that important Baltic city.

On the Kalinin, or northwestern front between Lake Ilmen and Rzhev, the Russians said, 10,000 more Nazi dead were counted between March 21 and April 1. It is in this area, at Staraya Russa, that the Russians have been steadily cutting down the encircled 16th Nazi army despite vast numbers of German reserves thrown against the Red cordon.

After days of official silence, the Russians issued a series of communiques listing an enormous haul of German booty, captured or destroyed.

Dispatches from neutral Stockholm said a decisive battle was expected to start within two or three weeks on the southern Russian front, where both the Germans and Soviets are moving up great masses of reserves.

These reports said that while the Red army had preserved the initiative in bitter winter fighting in the south, the actual warfare in that zone recently had been only a sideshow compared with the vastness of preparations behind the lines.

Swedish observers said that after several days of bringing extra troops up to ready positions on both sides, the Germans had flown large groupings of bombing and pursuit planes to Ukrainian bases. The Stockholm consensus was that the big and probably decisive conflict would start as soon as the ground dried out.

Paris Suburbs, Rail Network Are Bombed

German Radio Stations Go Off Air Long Be- fore Dark.

LONDON, April 2.—(AP)—Back again over the suburbs of Paris and into north and northwest Germany, the RAF blasted early today at the Matford works, pre-war Ford factory at Poissy and at the Reich's railroad network which is pouring munitions toward the Russian front.

Fifteen bombers were missing from these far-ranging raids, interpreted authoritatively here as primarily blows to assist Russia. The Paris factories are reported turning out vehicles for the Germans in the east and the German railroads are strained to the utmost in transporting supplies for spring offensive action against the Red armies.

It was the RAF's biggest loss in a single night since the November 7 raid on Berlin in which 37 British planes were destroyed, and it was above the average of 10 to 12 which the RAF feels it can afford to lose in one night at the present scale of operations.

(Several German radio stations went off the air at 7:15 o'clock (2:15 o'clock E.W.T.)—well before dark—after telling listeners to tune in on Breslau.)

(Stations going off the air usually is an indication that air raiders are approaching, but ordinarily this comes only well after nightfall.)

Bright moonlight aided the attackers and the German night fighters alike in the reported raids.

Defenses Active.
Canadian airmen, led by Johnny Fauquier, Ottawa bus flyer, told of blasting debris high into the sky at Poissy, eight miles west of Paris on the left bank of the Seine, of setting bright fires and of feeling the blast of bombs which made direct hits on the Matford factory from extremely low altitudes.

VALLETTA, Malta, April 2.—(AP)—The Germans in a persistent dawn-to-dawn attack begun yesterday morning lost a total of 27 planes destroyed, probably destroyed or damaged, the heaviest losses ever suffered in a 24-hour period over Malta, the British announced in their communique to-night.

"POW-O-LIN WAS A HAPPY SURPRISE TO ME," STATES SOUTHERN RY. ENGINEER

Tells of Welcome Relief From Distress That Plagued Him Day and Night. "Pow-o-lin Proved Itself In My Stubbard Case," Declares Engineer McClain.

From every section of the Carolinas and Georgia, well-known men and women are telling the story of relief and happiness Pow-o-lin brought them. Among the scores of Southern Railway men to give Pow-o-lin their strong endorsements is Mr. J. A. McClain, engineer and well-known citizen of 208 Ott Road, Columbia, S. C. Mr. McClain declares:

"Riding lurching engines, eating cold food at irregular hours and being unable to answer when nature calls made me feel just about 'knocked out.' Nearly everything I ate gave me indigestion and gas formed in such haste I could hardly draw a deep breath for the pressure. My tongue was coated and headaches were so severe I felt the top of my head would come off. The toxic wastes of constipation made me feel achy all over. I had to take strong laxatives that made me feel weak and sick. No matter what I tried, I continued to suffer and my nerves felt on edge until I couldn't get much needed sleep or rest. I was at a loss to know where to turn for relief I so sorely needed.

"A brother engineer told me of his gratifying relief through Pow-o-lin. I now add my appreciation for this splendid medicine. Pow-o-lin gave me speedy relief from my achy, sluggish let-down feeling. I enjoy eating and am relieved of the gas and bloating, headaches and unnatural fatigue. I don't have to take harsh laxatives and am really enjoying my work again. Pow-o-lin was a happy surprise to me."

Such voluntary praise must be deserved, for thousands of well-known men and women declare Pow-o-lin brings welcome relief from distress as plagued Mr. McClain when due to constipation. Pow-o-lin may be obtained at all Jacobs Drug Stores. $1.25 size, special, 98c. By mail, add 10c for postage.—(adv.)

Dutch Troops Still Battling In East Indies

Fliers and Planes Are Operating With Allied Forces.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(AP)—Netherlands Indies forces were reported here today to be still giving blows to the Japanese invaders, nearly four weeks after the loss of Java.

Authorized sources said isolated detachments were known to be fighting the foe in Java, Borneo, Sumatra and Celebes, and possibly other islands.

Netherlands fliers and planes which escaped the foe in Java in early March were said to be operating with American and Australian air forces, hammering at Japanese bases in New Guinea and elsewhere near the northern perimeter of the continent.

Some ground forces likewise were believed to have been transferred from Java to reinforce Australia's defenders.

Netherlands naval units which escaped the disastrous battle of the Java sea and other sea fighting were shifted to the Indian ocean to serve under British naval command.

Severed communications make it impossible to assess the effectiveness put up by relatively small Dutch forces in the principal Indies islands. Military authorities believe it is of the same general nature as the persistent raids carried out in the Philippines by forces operating in Mindanao and other islands separated from the main Bataan peninsula fighting front on Luzon.

RITUAL IN VATICAN.
ROME (From Italian Broadcasts), April 2.—(AP)—Maundy Thursday was observed in the Vatican by Pope Pius XII, cardinals, diplomatic corps members and Vatican authorities today. After mass the Pope, in procession, carried the Holy Sacrament into the Pauline chapel.

Surviving are his wife; four sons, Weyman, Steve, Bartow and Dewitt Walker; a daughter, Mrs. Walter Wade; and three sisters, Mrs. Perry F. Fields, Mrs. Rose Fields, and Mrs. Wiley Brown.

Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock this morning at Bethel Baptist church. Burial will be in the churchyard with A. S. Turner & Sons in charge.

War Information Bureau Set Up

An information center to answer questions on the war from schools, discussion groups, and individuals, has been set up at Emory University by the United States Office of Education, with W. B. Stubbs, professor of political science, in charge, it was announced yesterday.

Miss Margaret Jamison, head librarian at the university, will supervise the staff.

Similar units will be established later at the University of Georgia and the Georgia State Woman's College, Valdosta.

Old Water Cisterns Reclaimed at Athens

Special to THE CONSTITUTION. ATHENS, Ga., April 2.—Athens firemen believe in being prepared—just in case.

Four large underground water cisterns, reminders of days long past when the city had no water works plant to pump water for use in fighting fires, have been located and are being conditioned for possible emergency.

When the city set up its water works plant, the old cisterns were first abandoned and then forgotten. It was feared nobody knew their locations.

Weiss Is Released From Penitentiary

Seymour Weiss, New Orleans hotel operator and treasurer of the Huey Long political machine in Louisiana, was released from the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary Wednesday after serving 15 months on a four-year sentence, it was disclosed yesterday.

Weiss was ordered released by the Federal Parole Board in Washington after he had completed a fourth of his sentence, paid a fine of $6,000 and had paid $115,000 in income taxes. A balance of about $20,000 on his income taxes was left unpaid and Weiss promised to pay this off in monthly installments during the next 12 months.

The case of Weiss was heard by the parole board several months ago.

Lindbergh Drive Order Is Revoked

The order of Fulton county commissioners issued Wednesday changing the name of Lindbergh drive to La Vista road was revoked yesterday after Clerk Frank Fling discovered that an error had been made.

It was pointed out that the board had advertised a public hearing on the question for 2 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon.

The board mistakenly thought the hearing had been advertised for last Wednesday and when no one appeared to contest the petition of Lindbergh drive residents that the name be changed, the board granted it.

Mrs. Joyce Roberts Succumbs to Burns

SPECIAL TO THE CONSTITUTION.
WAYCROSS, Ga., April 2.—Mrs. Joyce Howell Roberts, wife of L. Glenn Roberts, died yesterday afternoon at a local hospital of burns sustained several weeks ago when her clothing caught fire from an open grate at her home.

Besides her husband, she is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Howell, of Waycross; four brothers, Troy, Ralzie Lee, Dan and Belay Howell, and one sister, Miss Lois Howell, all of Waycross.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at the chapel of the Minny Funeral Home, conducted by Dr. Durward V. Cason, pastor of the Central Baptist church, with burial at Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

If You Get Up Nights You Can't Feel Right

If you have to get up 2 or more times a night your rest is broken and it's no wonder if you feel old and run down before your time. Functional rather than organic or systemic kidney and bladder trouble often may be the cause of many pains and symptoms simply because the kidneys may be tired and not working fast enough in filtering and removing irritating excess acids, poisons and wastes from your blood. So you get up nights or suffer from burning, itching or frequent passages, leg pains, backache, or swollen ankles, due to non-organic or non-systemic kidney and bladder trouble, you'll make no mistake in trying the prescription called Cystex. Because it has given such joyful, happy relief to so high a percentage of such cases, Cystex is sold under a guarantee of money back on return of empty package unless completely satisfactory to you. Cystex costs only 25¢ at drug stores and the guarantee protects you.

"We are going to continue this investigation until we get to the bottom of this construction job," Thomason declared. "It looks like we have hit pay dirt, that we have developed enough to warrant a complete inquiry into the whole work. These excessive costs will have to be justified."

Gordon K. Miller, committee investigator, testified that the Silas Mason Co., of New York city, the contractor, spent money on unnecessarily elaborate temporary buildings, such as 15 or 20 gablehouse structures for guards he said were costing $3,400 or more each.

Another investigator for the committee, an architectural expert, estimated these structures could have been built for less than $800, Miller said.

The witness said a wooden employment building was constructed at a cost that would run to nearly $1 a cubic foot compared with what he said was $1.10 a cubic cost of constructing the U. S. supreme court building.

Miller said the project was now expected to cost $27,868,920 compared with an original estimated cost of $15,776,044.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT PRAYER MEETING—More than 250 persons attended midweek prayer services at Park Street Methodist church last Wednesday night. Dr. E. Nash Broyles, pastor (second from right in front row), says attendance has grown from 35 to an average of more than 150 each week, until now the midweek prayer service constitutes a center about which all church activities revolve. It has come to attain national renown. Pastor Broyles devotes some 18 hours weekly preparing for the meetings, and uses 20 or more persons in putting on the regular programs. No suppers, contests or other inducements are employed in the work, he stated.

died to skirmishing, air raids, and artillery dueling. Official observers said it appeared likely that Lieutenant General Tomoyuki Yamashita, the invaders' new commander, planned soon to supplement indecisive land and air attacks with a flanking naval foray from the China sea such as figured in his conquest of Malaya.

Suspicion Arises. The suspicion first arose when Japanese warships shelled American-Filipino positions along the west coast of Bataan yesterday for the first time in two months. Assaults from the sea were reported smashed on both January 25 and February 3, but only after desperate fighting by the forces then under command of General Douglas MacArthur.

A warship-supported attack on General Wainwright's left flank would be especially dangerous because of the curtain of concentrated artillery fire that could be laid down by the heavy guns of the naval craft. Beyond the range of the guns of Corregidor fortress and free of air attack, the ships would risk only the possibility of hits by defending batteries of field guns.

The War Department said in a morning communique that the heavy Japanese land attack, carried out all Tuesday night and which won several outpost positions, was succeeded by aggressive patrol activities and a number of sharp skirmishes, but no further general action.

Jap Artillery. Meanwhile, Japanese artillery and dive bombers hammered at troops in forward areas and in various front and rear positions, including the beach defenses, in obvious preparation for another major assault.

For the 10th consecutive day, night and day air raids continued on the Manila bay harbor defenses, Corregidor and the other outlying island fortifications engaged in an artillery duel with enemy batteries on the bay's south shore in Cavite province. Bombers were forced by anti-aircraft fire to fly so high that their aim was inaccurate, the War Department said, and little damage was inflicted by either bombing or shelling.

TESTAMENTS FOR SOLDIERS. UNITED STATES ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, April 2.—(AP)—With Easter just three days away, it was disclosed today that United States Army authorities were preparing to distribute to the American forces pocket-size Testaments containing a foreword by President Roosevelt.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have a hard time getting to sleep at night. Sometimes, or even worse, they have a hard time staying asleep. This condition and loss of valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

nesses Senator O'Mahoney, Democrat, Wyoming, told them that "your difficulty proceeds from the fact that you are bound by two loyalties," which he said were "loyalty to I. G. Farben" and "loyalty to the United States and its policies."

His comment was based on a letter, dated January 20, 1941, in which the manager of the Standard Oil Development Company observed that under 1939 agreements Standard Oil would have to refer Japanese and South American companies to the German concern.

Denying that any "conflict of loyalty with the United States" was created by this arrangement, Howard said it grew out of "the simple fact that we did not own the patents in the countries in question, and I. G. did own them." Howard testified that there was "never at any time" any effort by Standard to control retail prices in licensing agreements.

Unwavering Loyalty To U. S. Found In Philippines

By CLARK LEE.

UNITED STATES ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, April 2.—(AP)—By far the greatest part of the Philippines, both in territory and in population, still are free of the Japanese invader and still are under the American flag.

The people are unwavering in their loyalty to the United States, although considerably puzzled over the Allies' continued withdrawal and their failure to take the initiative against Japan.

En route to Australia, where I arrived three days ago, I traveled hundreds of miles over Philippine waters, and by car over the islands without seeing a single Japanese plane, warship or soldier.

It is well to recall that there are 7,000 islands and reefs in the archipelago, and that so far the enemy has landed on only five.

Manila Bay Unyielding.
The Japanese control the principal cities and highways in central and northern Luzon and a few ports in southeastern Luzon. However, the main prize, Manila bay, still is beyond their reach.

Recently the Japanese occupied five points on northern Mindoro. They maintain a small force on the island of Masbate, occupy Davao and Zamboanga, at the eastern and western extremities of Mindanao, and also hold the island of Jolo.

The Japanese do not control the inner Philippine islands or the inland waters. Occasionally an enemy warship raids shipping and ports in the so-called "inland sea" but the Japanese apparently are afraid to keep a destroyer or a light cruiser on patrol there.

From what I have seen of the American torpedo boats in action, I believe a few squadrons of those hard-hitting, speedy vessels in which General Douglas MacArthur began his trip to Australia could keep the islands' inner shipping lanes entirely clear of the enemy.

Dozens of Bases.
There are dozens of airfields and scores of ports in the inner Philippines from which American planes and ships could operate. There are American and Filipino fighting forces on almost every island.

The war goes on not on Bataan but on Mindanao, where the Moros, under United States officers, frequently attack the Japanese.

The Japanese are reported to have put in uniform several thousand young Japanese nationals who lived at Davao before the war. Yet despite their overwhelming numerical superiority, the invaders are said to fear the Moros so much that every night hundreds of the Japanese return to their ships to sleep.

The Moros turned back one Japanese drive south of Davao in January.

On other islands we found American and Filipino forces which were ready to fight despite their shortage of equipment, if the Japanese should come. Our greatest difficulty in traveling through the Philippines was in answering questions about help from the United States. Everybody, everywhere, asked the same questions.

Ask About Bombing.
To inquiries as to when Tokyo would be bombed, our customary reply was, "The bombing will start soon, probably the middle of this month (March)."

Then someone would proffer the polite objection that "We believe it would be difficult for us to bomb Tokyo before April, sir, as the air fields in Alaska still are covered with snow and objectives in Japan probably would be hidden by clouds."

Some bright youngster usually would add:

"We believe arrangements can be made for the United States to use the Russian air fields at Vladivostok and on the Kamchatka peninsula, inasmuch as the Russians and Americans are fighting the same war, although on different fronts, and the Russians need American supplies while Americans need Siberian bases."

Respect Roosevelt.

The people frequently expressed their respect for President Roosevelt as a forceful leader. Their feeling for General MacArthur can be described only as reverential.

They'd say:
"We believe, sir, that the MacArthur line is impregnable. We are convinced that the man has not yet been born who can defeat General MacArthur."

They pronounced it Mac-Arthur, with the accent on the last syllable.

A Filipino who is doing one of the most dangerous jobs in the islands at present told me:

"When the war is over, win or lose, I am going to build a monument to General MacArthur in my garden with my own hands. If I die my son will do it."

Alongside Rizal.

"There will be similar monuments all over the Philippines. General MacArthur will stand side by side with our martyred national hero, Jose Rizal."

Rizal, Filipino patriot and writer, organized the "Liga Filipina" to secure the political liberty of his countrymen from Spain. Arrested by Spanish authorities at Barcelona when he was on his way to Cuba for volunteer relief work among the yellow fever victims, he was brought back to Manila, where he was tried and shot in December, 1896. The day of his execution ever since has been a national holiday.

When our ship neared one Philippine port, the townspeople took to the hills fearing a Japanese invasion, but they came back when they saw the Filipino and American flags.

Once ashore, officers of the Philippine constabulary soon came up to shake hands. Then a few men gathered around, squatting on their haunches. They were followed by small boys, then girls formed a larger circle around us, while the womenfolk remained a few hundred yards away.

Cigarettes for Coconuts.

We passed out cigarettes, and they sent boys up into the coconut trees to fetch down young coconuts. These represented an offer of hospitality. From then on, conversation flowed easily.

The pattern of life in these native villages did not change much between the days of Magellan and the Spanish-American War, but they were modified greatly during the American occupation.

We have given them our language, our style of apparel (minus the shoes), the advantage of our medical knowledge, a belief in our system of government, and an economy linked to ours through the production of copra, sugar, hemp, etc. Their signs are in English and each barrio has a school where English is taught.

U. S. Papers Give Newsprint to Cuba

MIAMI, Fla., April 2.—(P)—Newspapers at Havana, Cuba, facing a shutdown because of a critical shortage of newsprint, will continue to publish with 250 tons of paper two Miami newspapers agreed to rush there.

Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles declared at Washington that he considered the action of the Miami papers "a very fine gesture."

Lawrence Berenson, president of the Cuban Chamber of Commerce in the United States, said at New York the decision "constitutes a practical application of the Good Neighbor policy and is in keeping with the best traditions of the press in the United States."

Bill Would Give Each Senator Another Clerk
WASHINGTON, April 2.—(P)—Ignoring protests of Chairman Glass, Democrat, Virginia, the Senate Appropriations Committee today recommended legislation to provide an additional clerk for each of the 96 senators.

"I think it an outrage to give every senator another clerk at $1,800 a year," the Virginian told reporters. "I don't know what I would do with another clerk in my office. This is for the emergency, but the emergency will never end."

Evans' Case Is Continued Until Today

Defense Council Again Attacks Validity of Subpoenas.

Contempt proceedings against Dr. and Mrs. Hiram W. Evans in Fulton superior court yesterday were continued until 10:30 o'clock this morning after defense counsel had again attacked the validity of the grand jury subpoenas ordering them to produce records of companies in which they were partners.

Mrs. Evans, in a statement filed yesterday with the court, admitted after hearing that the records were wanted by the grand jury in the course of its state graft probe, she took them from the office of her husband in the Hurt building be-

Sergeant Sits Meek as Mouse—Woman Nearby Is His Spouse

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 2.—(AP)—Everyone was having fun at the dance for soldiers at the old Service Club except two lonely souls.

Hostess Peggy Harris jumped into action. She walked up to the soldier in the easy chair and said, "Sergeant, I'd like you to meet a charming young lady." The sergeant looked at the young lady a few paces away, seated alone on a long couch.

"Yeah, I know," he replied. "She's my wife!"

cause they might be used in evidence against Dr. Evans or herself.

Defense counsel introduced in the hearing before Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy a decision of the supreme court holding that subpoenas may not be issued in blank by a court clerk, to be filled in later by others.

Counsel for Dr. Evans and his wife contend that in the case of the subpoenas issued against them

Laval, Petain In Conference On Nazi Issue

Talk in Vichy Ends Series of Meetings, Communique Says.

VICHY, Unoccupied France, April 2.—(AP)—Former Premier Pierre Laval came to Vichy today for the first time since he was ousted from power in the Vichy regime and conferred with Marshal Petain on the question of French-German relations.

The communique: "Conversations have taken place between the chief of state and myself. They ended today with the last interview at Pavillon Sevigne."

Dwelling Vacancies To Be Surveyed

A resurvey of dwelling unit vacancies in Atlanta will begin today by a staff of interviewers from the division of research and statistics of the WPA to gather information for the National Housing Agency, it was announced yesterday.

W. B. Pournelle, supervisor for the survey, said it will determine the proportion of unoccupied dwelling units in the city, the percentage available for rent, their condition, facilities, number of rooms, and rentals.

One survey was made last November, revealing a gross vacancy rate of 2.4 per cent and a habitable rental vacancy rate of 1.9 per cent.

'Conservatism' Shackles Dixie, Scientists Told
Parley Hears Virginian Urge Research as Boon to South.

Urging the necessity of scientific research as "insurance against going out of business," a native-born Virginian asserted last night "complicity, conservatism and resistance to any change have stood in the path of the south and will continue to do so."

He was L. C. Bird, Richmond industrialist, addressing the Southern Association for the Advancement of Science, which, in convention yesterday at the Biltmore hotel, changed its name to the Southern Association of Science and Industry.

Bird, who helped organize the group a year ago, which concludes its Atlanta meeting today, said: "Forty years ago Dr. E. A. Alderman, then president of the University of Virginia, said: 'The south is still conservative, believes in God, reads Walter Scott and votes the Democratic ticket.' We have changed some since Dr. Alderman made that statement, but not greatly."

Emphasizing vital objectives of the association, Bird continued: "We must have planning and research, otherwise we will always be below the average economical."

No Midnight Show At Fox This Week

There will be no midnight show tomorrow at the Fox theater because of early morning Easter services at Grant Field and at Atlanta churches, Arthur Lucas, president of the Lucas-Jenkins chain, announced.

The midnight shows will continue after this weekend, however, he added.

The announcement followed closely Mayor Lyle's order that midnight shows be discontinued.

In a memorandum to T. H. Read, manager of the Fox, Lucas said: "In view of the fact that city-wide services will be held at Grant Field and churches early Easter morning, do not have a midnight show this Saturday. Resume the program Saturday, April 11."

No Midnight Show At Fox This Week

There will be no midnight show tomorrow at the Fox theater because of early morning Easter services at Grant Field and at Atlanta churches, Arthur Lucas, president of the Lucas-Jenkins chain, announced.

The midnight shows will continue after this weekend, however, he added.

The announcement followed closely Mayor Lyle's order that midnight shows be discontinued.

In a memorandum to T. H. Read, manager of the Fox, Lucas said: "In view of the fact that city-wide services will be held at Grant Field and churches early Easter morning, do not have a midnight show this Saturday. Resume the program Saturday, April 11."

Final Contract Let in Giant Ship Program

2,300 Freighters, Tankers in Two Years Are Planned.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(AP)—Awarding of contracts for history's greatest shipbuilding program—2,300 freighters and tankers of 23,000,000 deadweight tons in two years—was completed today by the Maritime Commission.

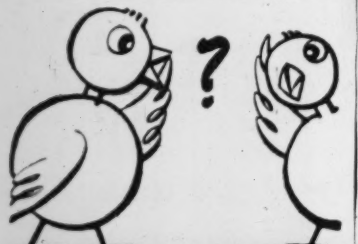

Final contract in the vast program was for a new six-way shipyard at Panama City, Fla., where the J. A. Jones Construction Company, Charlotte, N. C., will build 33 emergency freighters of the Liberty ship design.

While the 1942 goal remains 2,000,000 deadweight tons, the 1943 goal has been increased from 10,000,000 tons, the figure established by President Roosevelt immediately after Pearl Harbor, to 15,000,000 tons.

The 23,000,000-ton program for the two-year period does not include more than 700 other craft under commission order, such as tugs, wooden barges and small power boats.

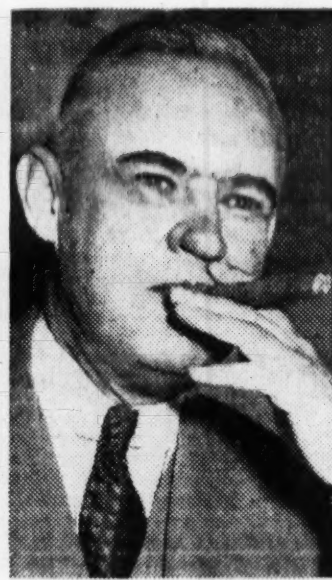

Present schedules call for the delivery of about 750 ships in 1942 and the remainder next year. Delivery of ships reached a one-a-day basis in February, but the program calls for an average of three a day over the two-year period. Peak production the commission said, is expected to be reached late this year.

$201.88 Is Paid For Prize Steer

Special to THE CONSTITUTION.

DUBLIN, Ga., April 2.—Ray Dominy, 13-year-old Montrose club boy, tonight was the proud possessor of a check for $201.88, representing a premium price of $19.60 per 100 pounds on his prize-winning Hereford steer named grand champion in Dublin's first fat livestock show and sale.

Price paid for young Dominy's sleek 1,030-pound entry represented $7.85 per 100 pounds over today's average at Dublin's livestock auctions, which followed the event. Louis Parker, whose Hereford steer was named reserve grand champion, was paid $15 per 100 pounds for his entry, receiving $148.50.

Average prices paid for cattle at today's regular livestock auctions was $11.75 per hundredweight.

Both Dominy's and Parker's steers were purchased for sale in local markets.

ARMY DAY. FORT VALLEY, Ga., April 2.—The Frederick Witholt Chapter, Service Star Legion, of Fort Valley, will sponsor exercises here in observance of Army Day. ## Rivers Asks That His Trial Be Held First At Age of 83

Former Governor Wins 3-Week Postponement of Trials.

An eloquent plea that he be tried first of the score indicted with him on charges of conspiracy to defraud the state was made yesterday in Fulton superior court before Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy by former Governor E. D. Rivers and then he won a three-week postponement of the trials due to illness of his attorney.

Rivers appeared in place of his leading counsel, John T. Dennis, who was indisposed, at a hearing on demurrers to indictments in the state graft cases.

Several other defendants, including W. Fred Scott, D. B. Blalock and W. W. Willis, announced through counsel that they were ready to proceed with the trials set for April 6 and 13. Others announced that they had not completed examination of the records, on which the indictments were based, which were only recently made available to them by the solicitor general.

Solicitor General John A. Boykin replied that he and his staff would not be ready to proceed with the trials until they had had two weeks' exclusive use of the records.

Cases Put Off. Judge Pomeroy then put off all these cases on the calendar for April 6 and 13 until April 27. He then instructed the custodian of the records to give those defendants who had not completed their examination until April 11 to do so and set the hearing on demurrers to the indictments and other preliminaries to the trials for April 15.

In his address to the court, former Governor Rivers said:

"I want to be tried first in these cases. I think that it is logical and proper that this be done. I was Governor and it is my administration that is under attack in these indictments. In my trial the prosecutor will have ample opportunity to fully develop the picture he seeks to paint. By the same token, I will have the opportunity to defend myself. This cannot be done in the trial of anyone but myself. I'm the one they are after and have been after all along. I welcome an early opportunity for my trial and want to repeat for emphasis that I want to be tried first. While Mr. John T. Dennis, my leading counsel, is temporarily indisposed and cannot be here this morning, his doctors think that he will be able to be back at work soon.

Full Concurrence.

"I am speaking with his full concurrence that we are not asking for these cases to be continued and we hope that it will suit the convenience of the other parties and defendants and meet the approval of the court that my trial come first. There is one other request that I want to make of the court. There are three cases against me, each one involving separate witnesses. A large number of these witnesses live outside the state. Some are in the Army. Some are scattered from New York to Florida.

"I do not feel that it's right to put them to the inconvenience or me to the expense of bringing them all here when it is impossible to try but one case at a time. I am not attempting to choose which of the cases against me shall be tried first. I am ready to try either one, but whichever is tried, it will take several weeks. I do not think it right to bring witnesses here from long distances in other cases not to be tried."

Solicitor Boykin, in replying, refused to state which of the cases he would try first, but stated that he would proceed with one of the cases against Rivers, J. C. Glover, O. G. Glover, D. B. Blalock or Hiram W. Evans for April 27. He announced that he would agree to definite postponement of the other cases.

Forester Objects. F. L. Forester, of counsel for W. Fred Scott, who had previously said he was ready to proceed with trial of his client at any time, objected to any indefinite postponement.

Attorneys John T. Ferguson and Preston Rawlins, of the state law department, representing the State Highway Department, appeared in answer to a subpoena duces tecum served at the behest of Marion Smith and Bruce Woodruff, defense counsel, and stated that it would cost $72,000 to produce only a part of the records demanded in the subpoena. Judge Pomeroy then directed that counsel for both sides get together and reach an agreement about records wanted from the capitol and highway department.

C. V. LeCraw Succumbs Here At Age of 83

Father of Former Mayor Was Active in Insurance Field.

Charles V. LeCraw, 83, father of former Mayor Roy LeCraw, of Atlanta, died yesterday morning at the residence, 760 West Peachtree street, after several days' illness.

A native of Indianapolis, Mr. LeCraw brought his family to Atlanta in 1901 from Cincinnati, Ohio, when he came here to represent the State Life Insurance Company, of Indianapolis. He was active as superintendent of the company's southern agencies until the time of his death. He was an elder in the North Avenue Presbyterian church.

Surviving, in addition to former Mayor LeCraw, who recently went into the Army as a major, are his wife; two daughters, Miss Daisy LeCraw and Mrs. H. A. Lubs, of Wilmington, Del.; four other sons, Charles S., Colonel J. W., R. V. and Captain Arthur LeCraw; and several grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Spring Hill with Dr. Richmond Orme Flinn and Dr. Vernon Broyles officiating. Burial will be in West View cemetery.

U. S. Prisoners At Hongkong Face Starvation

Scores of Captives Already Look Like Skeletons.

LONDON, April 2.—(AP)—Dr. Gordon King, who has just escaped from Hongkong and reached Chungking, was quoted by Reuters News Agency tonight as declaring half the 1,600 Britons and 300 Americans interned in Hongkong's Stanley prison were in danger of death by starvation within six months.

Dr. King, a physician and former professor in Hongkong University, said the Japanese had refused requests by an Italian bishop, the Swedish consul and others for better treatment of the prisoners, scores of whom already looked like skeletons. Many of the prisoners are children or old persons.

Wholesale Price Index Shows Slight Increase

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(AP)—The Labor Department's wholesale price index rose 0.2 per cent last week, the department said, largely because of higher prices for agricultural products.

The index stood at 97.4 per cent of the 1926 level and was at the highest point since the fall of 1928. The index was 0.6 per cent above the level of a month ago and nearly 19 per cent above a year ago. In the corresponding week of 1929 it was 96 per cent of the 1926 level and in 1937 it was 86.5 per cent.

Food prices as a group advanced 0.4 per cent and farm products increased 0.3 per cent last week over the preceding week, the department said.

Sea Power

The story of the Murmansk convoy again punches home the impact of sea power on the future of the world. So long as the United Nations retain that preponderance of sea power which now governs passage over most of the waters of the world, so long will these nations retain the freedom of movement essential if the war is to be won.

In the instance of the Murmansk convoy, Germany risked valuable small units of her fleet in a desperate effort to prevent supplies from reaching the Russians. The heavy British protection of the convoy was a tribute to the inherent power vested in the battleship Tirpitz, even though that ship apparently did not participate in the attack. That vessel several weeks ago ignored a lesson the Germans themselves taught and ventured beyond the range of sea-air co-operation into an area where the British could utilize ships and planes to harry her back to port. The fact that the Tirpitz did not participate in this latest convoy raid indicates she sustained some damage.

That the British are reported to have used an airplane carrier in protecting the convoy is evidence that the British finally have learned the lesson inherent in the battle of Crete, the sinking of the Bismarck and the sinking of the Prince of Wales and the Repulse and have learned to utilize ships and planes as a unit in the manner in which the United States Navy has demonstrated particular brilliance.

Only the highest praise can be given the Navy for the manner in which it has used the sea-air power team in its operations. Only in the battle for Java, where conditions made it impossible, has the Navy failed to weld both weapons into a striking force of terrific power. This is not an improvisation, brought about by changing conditions of war, but the result of years of planning and preparation and trial on the part of the Navy's high command, much of it in the years when the Navy was being starved by a penurious congress.

The Navy has recognized, for many years, that a balanced utilization of sea power with air power must decide the issue of battle. Sea power alone is not sufficient, yet neither can air power alone carry the brunt of battle. We shall see more and more the result of the far-sighted Navy preparations and its recognition of factors which even the Germans have failed to see.

Incidentally, one of the mysteries of the war is the fact the Germans have not uncovered their aircraft carriers. If one had been with the Bismarck, the story of that engagement could well have been very different. The same is true of the Tirpitz sortie. Yet the Nazis are known to have had at least two carriers of striking design, which have not been reported in action.

Those who have sneered at sea power will find more and more reason to eat their words.

The Crime of Hoarding

There are some Americans who have been guilty of hoarding such things as sugar, when the word first went forth there would be a shortage of such staples because of the war. These hoarders have excused themselves, to their own consciences, with the argument that they must care for their own families first, regardless of what hardship they may thereby inflict upon some other American families.

Recently a news dispatch from Bern, Switzerland, dramatically illustrated how serious the crime of hoarding may be in time of war. At least the Nazi government which, whatever else it may lack, certainly does not lack a full knowledge of how to wage modern war, considers hoarding serious. So serious that two German women, nurses in a children's home, have been sentenced to death because they were found guilty of hoarding sugar, candy and soap.

That penalty is, of course, horribly drastic. It is typical of the Nazi mind. At the same time, however, it should impress Americans with the fact that hoarding any commodity which is scarce, and has to be rationed, is giving direct aid to the enemy.

When the Axis powers succeed in reducing our supplies of any essential commodity, it is their hope that the shortage will, first, cripple our direct war effort and, second, create public dissatisfaction and promote disunity among our people.

It is plain that the person who, for instance, takes for himself twice the quantity of sugar permissible for all of us, is depriving another of any sugar at all and thus aiding the enemy to create a dissatisfied American. Hoarding is a crime and should be emphatically punished though, probably, the German decree of death for hoarders is somewhat on the drastic side.

Ramble To Glory

Football is okay for the University System of Georgia. Georgia may ride to glory on the gridiron next fall and Georgia Tech can ramble at will through opposing elevens. In so far as the Board of Regents of the system is concerned.

That was the decision at a regents' meeting held Wednesday, when the Chip Robert proposal to abandon football because of the war came up for discussion. The resolution finally adopted provided there would be no change in this year's football plans unless changes in the war situation, at present unforeseen, make it unavoidable.

In other words, both the famous Georgia schools will play their already planned schedules unless the war situation becomes such that public opinion turns thumbs down on football as usual.

It is a wise decision. It would have been foolish, almost panicky, to halt the beneficial football programs. Beneficial not only for the members of the football squads themselves, but beneficial also to the entire student bodies and to all those who will witness the games. Football is perfect relaxation from the nervous strain of war effort. It inspires an enthusiasm for contest which is typically American and it should help, not hinder, the conditioning of the entire nation for war's demands.

Of course, if some startling change in the war situation should occur—if, for instance, this country is invaded—before the opening of the gridiron season, there will be no need for the regents to call off football. Public opinion will cancel it, for them.

In the meantime, let the boys go on with their preparations. Let both Georgia and Georgia Tech, all their alumni and supporters and friends, look forward to most successful seasons. There is no reason why they should not.

This Is War—Not Income Tax

To win this war millions of Americans must stop looking on it with the cool and calculating detachment they habitually bestow on their income tax reports.

Most Americans, quite naturally, have always spent more time and thought in figuring out what—within the law—they could avoid paying to the federal government than in estimating what they should pay.

Perhaps the habit of looking for deductions and exemptions is too strong upon us. Too many of us are trying to devise ways and means to qualify for a new set of tires—instead of pitching in wholeheartedly to do without.

Too many of us already are scheming to argue ourselves into more sugar than our just ration—instead of planning to slice our consumption even below our allotted share.

Too many of us in industry and business are looking for methods of sidestepping priorities—instead of exercising good old freedom-loving American ingenuity in the cause of still further sacrifice and substitution.

Too many of us are doing as little as we can to get by—making deductions from our patriotism, claiming exemptions from all-out service—instead of moving heaven and earth to help.

Each of our small and thoughtless acts is harmless enough, maybe, when committed by a single individual. But when the acts are multiplied by hundreds and the individual by millions, the accumulation can cripple our country's program of war and make us easy victims of disaster.

It was all right with the income tax; we were entitled to exemptions and deductions.

But we are not entitled to short-change our nation in time of war; such an attitude, innocent as it may seem, is an invitation to national calamity.

Georgia Editors Say:

GASOLINE RATIONING

(From The Moultrie Observer.)

Troubles pile upon troubles for the man with an automobile. First it is a shortage of cars. There would be no more new ones for the man not essential to the war effort. Then came the tire shortage. No more tires except for the favored few. Then came the sad news that the favored few would not be able to get tires for the reason that they would not exist. Some were pretty well healed with new cars and with new tires. Others bought enough second-hand cars and second-hand tires to start a junk shop. It looked as if they were safeguarded. Now comes the news that gasoline will be rationed. Even if you have cars and tires you cannot ride without gasoline. The curtailment of gasoline is not so great at present, but if Hitler breaks through and gets the Russian oil and the oil fields in the Near East, then there will be a gas shortage. We hope the worst is not ahead of us, but it is unsafe to pin your hopes to things returning to normal in jangling.

WASHINGTON PARADE

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

CRUCIAL FIVE MONTHS WASHINGTON, April 2.—What happens within the next five months will probably determine the fate of the war for the next five years.

Qualified sources in London report that the Germans are moving up a hundred fresh divisions on the Russian front in anticipation of the coming spring offensive. They are being joined with the 180 other German divisions which have been struggling defensively through the cold Russian winter. A total of some eleven and a half million troops will be engaged in the most gigantic battle the war has yet seen when the weather again permits—four and a half million Germans and seven million Russians, according to the computations.

Everything we and the British have been able to spare and get there in the way of military equipment is and has been rushed to the scene in preparation for this momentous clash. The materials for the aid of the Russians have been under shipment ever since Hitler's armies were halted last December on the outskirts of Moscow. Their flow was intensified when it became apparent the Germans had not only been stopped for the winter, but were being driven back.

Because of the emergency of our own needs since Pearl Harbor, we have not been able to send all the war equipment which we might have otherwise. But there is little question that we have sent staggering quantities, even to the sacrifice of our more immediate needs in the Pacific. The materials have been getting through. It explains the whereabouts of a large part of our Navy. The huge convoy which had a brush with German military planes and ships off the northern tip of Norway a few days ago was made up of American supplies—planes, tanks, guns, and other products of our war industry. It is evidence enough that we are delivering the goods.

THE AXIS KEYSTONE We have kept up the flow of equipment to Russia in accordance with the fundamental conception of the war arrived at by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill at the time of their meeting, which had as its basis the realization that the war will not end until its source, Nazism, is crushed. Hence that it is far more important to sustain Russia in the drive expected to be launched by Hitler in the spring than it is to be diverted by anything Japan may be able to do in the Pacific.

That still is the keystone of British-American war policy. Once Hitler is crushed in Europe, we will be able to take Japan's measure in our stride. The British and American navies will turn their undivided attention on the treacherous little Nipponese empire with the same contemptuous regard as a strong man would on a weakling who has been kicking his shins while he was engaged in besting a foe more his equal.

Hitler's promised all-out drive against the Russians may be launched any time within the next month. It is expected to begin with a concentrated attack in the direction of the Caucasus, where the great Soviet oil fields are located. Hitler needs this oil very badly. It may be a two-pronged attack, one sweeping down through Turkey and the Middle East in the direction of Suez, while the other envelops the Black Sea.

IF RUSSIANS HOLD If the Russians stand up and are able to hold the German hordes back, Hitler's ultimate doom is sealed. Once a line is stabilized on the Moscow front, the problem of the Allied nations is reduced to a far more simple formula. We will direct all of our forces there until he is overwhelmed. At the most it should not require more than another 18 months or two years. By the end of next year we will have developed our full status of military strength with the President's announced program of 185,000 planes, 75,000 tanks, and 7,000,000 trained men consumed.

There isn't any doubt about what this force, acting in conjunction with British and Russian forces already organized, will be able to do with Hitler. We will smear him all over the lot, and make such an example of him and his pompous military machine that nobody in Europe will start another war in this day and time.

ALL OF EUROPE If, on the other hand, Russia goes down, Hitler takes on a more serious and prolonged aspect. Hitler will then have the whole continent of Europe under his domination. There would not be a single remaining country where we could establish a foothold for facing him, except through the hazardous venture of a direct invasion. All of Europe's resources would be at his command, all of its manpower at his disposal, plus the rubber from Malaya and the other materials taken by Japanese conquests in the Pacific.

Under these circumstances, the most optimistic outlook it is conceivable to make at this time, according to our best-informed official sources, would call for a further war effort of at least five years on our part before we could hope to beat the Axis down. It would involve an undertaking far more stupendous than anything any official has yet publicly proclaimed.

All of this will be decided probably within the next five months. If Russia is still standing then with anything approaching her present vigor, we will be able to look ahead to a comparatively early favorable end. If not, the picture of the world for us will be about as dark as it was for England immediately after the fall of France.

Calling Back The Pensioners.

He spent half an hour or so with me Wednesday afternoon last. An English lad, from London, now in training for aviation at Albany, Ga. In Atlanta on a week's furlough.

Before the war he was a printer in London and he was immensely interested in the mechanical departments of this paper.

The conversation, somehow, got around to old and crippled pensioners in London have now been called back to work, replacing the younger men who are in the armed services.

"Some of them," he said, "have been out of harness so long they know next to nothing of modern printing. The apprentices are re-teaching these granddads their old trade."

That little remark, it seemed to me drew an illuminative picture of a country in all-out war.

Speaking Of Food.

We got onto the subject of food, that inevitable topic when you are with someone in position to compare the dietary customs of two different countries.

He said he liked many of the southern dishes he had sampled, but there was one article of diet he simply couldn't stand. Funny, but practically every one of these English aviation boys I've talked to has the same opinion about sweet potatoes.

"I think they're the vilest tasting things I've ever sampled," said Wednesday's visitor.

I told him how the southern boys I met in Toronto last summer were hungry for southern cooking and he said what he would really like was some English food.

"Not as it is now," he quickly amended, "as it used to be."

I do hope the hosts of these English boys, when they are in our southern homes, will stuff them with some of the grand food indigenous to this section. The genuine home stuff, you know, Fried chicken, a bit of beef, even candied yams as they should be. I'll bet we could change their opinions of sweet potatoes.

Lack of Enthusiasm.

It is funny how personal likes or habits influence your reaction to various remarks or situations.

For instance, in that grand motion picture, "The Invaders," there is a Canadian soldier character who grouches because, he says, they feed him too many beans in the army. "I haven't tasted a parsnip in six months," he says, bitterly, "and I love 'em."

That line left me cold. For if there is one vegetable which, in my opinion, is unfit for human consumption it is the parsnip. Turnips are as bad.

Carrots I can eat, but without enthusiasm. And okra is utterly impossible, in my opinion, save in soup.

I could go on. But, insofar as I am concerned, the dialogue writer in that picture made an unfortunate choice when he decided parsnips are what a man would "simply love."

And, How About Grits?

I know, of course, grits constitute a staple article of southern diet. Yet you would hear never a word of complaint from me if I saw another grit eater grimace. I can take them or leave 'em alone, preferably the latter.

Rice, now, I like. Either as vegetable or in pudding. And, before I had to watch the old diet so carefully, corn on the cob was an annual treat.

Pork I was never fond of, save as sausage and in properly made pork pies. You can't find such pork pies in this part of the world, however. The last I saw were made and sold by a popular food store in Toronto, 'way back soon after the turn of the century.

Wonder why they never make meat pies as they are made in England, to be served either hot or cold, over here? There are, of course, sliced, cold, were a treat for any epicure. Indigestible, perhaps. But good—simply grand.

I wish I had the digestion and the opportunity all over again. But why wish for what is long

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER.

Leering Cynicism NEW YORK, April 2.—We can gain nothing by ignoring the leering cynicism of the majority decision of the supreme court in this so-called teamsters' case, one of those foredoomed Thurman Arnold prosecutions, wherein it had been again that no criminal act of a union or its members, acting as such, is beyond the privilege of such predatory bands, provided that they set up even the flimsiest pretense that they are pursuing a legitimate aim of a bona fide union.

The facts must be faced that this court is now strongly committed in sympathy with criminality by unions and grants them the right to assault, rob and otherwise abuse law-abiding citizens. This attitude was expressed in the carpenters' case in an opinion by Felix Frankfurter and has now been affirmed but with bolder emphasis in a majority opinion by Jimmy Byrnes who always seemed a rather decent citizen when he was in the senate. The carpenters' opinion was just what might have been expected of Frankfurter, but Byrnes had given no previous indication that he might ever come down from the supreme court any such brutal dictum as he put his name to in vindictive thuggery and highway robbery as permissible methods of compelling honest citizens to submit.

The decisions of themselves are bad enough but they are so much the use when it is realized that the policy which they express, the recognition of vice as a weapon of ostensible virtue, will now be accepted by judges in the lower courts who go by the theory that, whatever their own abhorrence, they must follow the supreme court.

It is tragic that in such a time as this, indeed in any time, the American people should receive from their highest court the shocking news that any group has the right to slug and rob, threaten, and possibly kill unoffending citizens in the furtherance of its own special aims, however noble those aims might be. But the fact must be faced that this is the policy of the government and the supreme court. It is written and rewritten in two important decisions which challenge congress now to repudiate these dangerous men with legislation disavowing the evil intent which the court has read into the supplementary anti-trust and antiracketeering laws. Probably most Americans would prefer to believe that these decisions do not mean what they plainly say and thus to retain an artificial confidence in the supreme court. That would be a fool's confidence, however. The decisions and opinions are plain and the court is unmistakably and defiantly on the side of the thugs and imputes this intent to congress.

It becomes plainer day by day that Thurman Arnold was put up to his job of prosecuting union racketeers as a fake gesture by the administration. He selects strong and outrageous cases, prepares them carefully and tries them well, but is licked before he starts because even though he wins all the way up to the supreme court, he doesn't stand a Chinaman's chance there. Thus the administration, paid and patron of the brutal goon, thief and extortioner, may say for the political record that it fairly tried these cases and is not responsible for the failure of congress to correct evils which no congress could have intended to write into any law but which the supreme court finds there nevertheless. By election time it will be seen whether the present congress intends to submit to this insulting and degrading declaration of the court.

In This Case In this teamsters' case it was shown, and Chief Justice Stone in his dissenting opinion observed, that members of the teamsters' union walked trucks approaching New York from New Jersey and Connecticut and, by beating or by threats, compelled the operators to pay them a toll of $9.42 for a large truck or $8.41 for a small one, for permission to enter the city. It was shown, and Justice Stone held, that such payments were made "only to secure immunity from violence" and, to the fading honor of the court, he added his disclaimer that any member of congress had the temerity to say that payments so made could be regarded as wages by an employer or that the compulsion of such payments "is a legitimate object of a labor union."

Byrnes and his concurring colleagues on the other hand had the cynical gall to say that in such circumstance, the extortioner becomes a bona fide employee of a bona fide employer and even granted immunity under the racketeering act to "an outsider," meaning one not employed by the victim.

"Who attempts, unsuccessfully, by violent means, to achieve the status of an employee."

This is, in this time of war, the most dangerous of all the mocking decisions which the new court has flung in the face of congress and the patriotic, law-abiding people of the country. It is indecent, immoral and an affront to congress and the people.

gone and, for peace of mind, had better be forgotten?

Twenty-Five Years Ago Today.

"Washington, April 2.—President Wilson tonight urged congress, assembled in joint session, to declare a state of war existing between the United States and Germany."

And Fifty Years Ago.

From the news columns of Sunday, April 3, 1892:

"Mr. B. M. Blackburn is no longer editor in chief of the sprightly Evening Herald, of this city. With yesterday afternoon's issue of that paper he severed his connection with it."

ONE WORD MORE

By RALPH MCGILL.

"THEY DO PROTEST TOO MUCH" It was a puzzling sort of reply which the county commissioners made, in announcing they had made available funds for the poor.

They said the facts were not understood. They took the usual slap at newspapers and blamed all but themselves.

What facts did they mean? There was only one fact. The grand jury of the county had recommended extra money for the welfare department.

The department head himself had declared the need urgent. The League of Women Voters, a non-partisan, hard-working group, had investigated and found the need was great.

The State Welfare Department knew the need was genuine. There was one fact. The commissioners had not granted it. They had not, they said, denied it. That is right. They hadn't. They didn't deny it. They just didn't give it. That they would not have given it had not accepted public opinion thawed it out of its frozen status, is the accepted verdict of the people.

There was nothing to misunderstand. There was a need. It had not been met.

On top of this was a decision to contract for about $24,000 in chairs for a public park.

The public did not like that. Surely the commissioners cannot blame the public.

(They did do an unworthy thing. When a group of ministers protested, they had a meeting of some of their friends. For many of them they had done "favors." Some of these men called some of the ministers and protested. It was an unworthy thing. The "favors" done for some of that group are known. Some of the favors were very real ones and it is not difficult to understand why they were led to protest. The ministers had the real facts. It might be interesting to publish some of the "favors," if there are further efforts to "score" the ministers because those ministers defended the poor and the weak.)

STATED RECORDS worthy, sanctimonious line in that reply.

It seemed to me there was one more unworthy act in the report, it said that with all the increase in employment, they did not see why there should be so many on relief.

Well, what increase? They must know there are 3,500 skilled men, from the Ford, Chevrolet, Fisher Body Company and associated supply companies, out of work. How do they expect sick, ignorant, old and unskilled people to get work?

Also, they know very well that they do not give much money to people who can work.

These are not facts. They come from the State Welfare Department and are available to any who want them.

In March, 1942, Fulton county paid out:

5,421 old people received $71,070.50

1,528 helpless children got 18,719.00

211 blind persons received 3,439.00

The total $93,228.50

The administrative cost of Fulton county's department was $6,107.

The total paid out by Fulton county in March was $99,335.50, of which the cost to the county was but $4,966.77.

Now, who ought to have got jobs?

The feeble, old people?

The defenseless, dependent children?

The blind persons?

There has been a sort of campaign to make it appear that the people on relief in this county are being "coddled." Nothing could be farther from the truth. They are the unemployables, the old, feeble, sick, and the young and the blind.

MORE STATE RECORDS From the state department one may find out that appeals to the State Welfare Department from the poor of Fulton county for medicine, coal, food and clothes, and for a place to live, are so great that the state department had to put on extra help to intercede for them. Also that an available $252,256, according to the state, has not been used in the past six months.

Fulton county participates on a basis of 50 per cent of federal funds, 45 per cent state funds and 5 per cent county. On this basis, Fulton county paid out $30.53 in March for her part of the administrative cost of $6,076.47; and in March paid out $4,966.77 in the general fund and got back $99,335.50. There was available for March $134,760.

Now, I assuredly am not engaged in any feud. Nor have I any ax to grind.

It just seems to me, as a neutral observer, that well-meaning commissioners fall into the amazing error so many politicians fall into—being afraid to trust the people.

Also, as a newspaperman, it does not make me feel good, when a politician, by his own fears and dodging, gets in a hot spot and then proceeds to whine that the newspapers have not presented all the facts or have distorted them. They never once find themselves at fault.

There are many other figures available about relief.

There also are some interesting facts and figures about public works, and the political power in the number of convicts, guards, camps, the food purchases and so on. It's real power and it is the county's greatest expense.

In the words of Mr. Wiley Moore, "I ain't mad with nobody." But I do wish the politicians would not resort to sanctimonious subtleties and accusations about newspapers and suggest that the blind, the feeble old persons and the helpless children should get jobs and solve their relief problem.

F. D. R., 13 Million More To Register April 27

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(AP)—President Roosevelt and 13,589,799 other men will register for selective service April 27, on the basis of Census Bureau figures.

The bureau calculated, on the basis of the 1940 census, that many men would be in the 45-to-64-year age group.

'I Love a Parade'

Snappy marching song with a rhythmic drumbeat is "I Love a Parade." Most of us do, if it's a worth-while parade.

It seems to me it's been a long time since Atlantans lined up on Peachtree street to watch a real military parade. We had been at peace with all the world so long we didn't expect to see another.

But next Monday will be Army Day, 25th anniversary of America's entry into World War No. 1, and all over the country, wherever there is an Army post or camp the boys in uniform will march.

In Atlanta's parade will be men from Fort McPherson and other nearby posts. Civilians will see a number of things known only to them through pictures in the papers—the equipment of the highly mechanized forces of today. No sword-flourishing generals on prancing steeds—but the ominous looking tanks and modern machineguns.

Let's hope there's a good band—or several of them. What kind of a parade would be worth-while without the grand old oom-pah of the tubas, the shrill cry of the trumpets, the rattle of the drums?

'Car Out of Control'

While I'll admit I'm no statistician, it seems to me that recently an unusually large number of automobile accidents—and fatalities—have been caused by a driver's sudden attack of that malady more or less loosely described as heart disease.

For a number of years I have wondered why they were not more frequent—or more frequently reported.

Because we are always reading of men and women dropping dead—or dying in the hospital ambulance—from a "heart attack."

But few of them were stricken, as far as we know, of an attack while at the wheel of a speeding car. Maybe nobody knew.

We have become accustomed to reading of a driver's "losing control of his car." With a crash into a telephone pole or a bridge or a ditch. Who knows? Perhaps the driver was dead before he crashed.

That's outside of my province, as I am no physician. But I do not think that if my specialist had ever warned me that the Great Reaper might visit me suddenly and without warning—as many folk have been told—I'd drive

Consolation in Restrictions

Found by Reeves

Out of scenes that are depressing Often grows the greatest blessing And our finest helps come frequently disguised;

Things we think our ship is sinking And the last dim light goes blinking

We are, sometimes, very pleasantly surprised.

War has robbed us of our rubber And we are inclined to blubber Since we cannot get a set of auto tires;

Many things which once supplied us Now are often-times denied us And we live as sweet and simply as our sires.

Our old faithful, worn jalopy (It's a nineteen thirty copy) Is collapsing as we drive it, day by day, And whenever we go calling All the parts start getting falling And we leave a trail of junk along the way.

But no lodge or clubhouse brother Calls to peddle us another— For the brother hasn't any cars to sell—

And although this is distressing It is something of a blessing For his silence suits us very, very well.

But the thing that suits us better— We receive no monthly letter Telling us our auto note is over—

And we thumb collective noses At the lawyer who "deposes" And informs us he is now prepared to sue.

As we said in the beginning Of this idle bit of chinning: Hardships often prove to be of heaven's bounty.

And if they keep on denying Us the right of monthly buying We can save—and not be buried by the county!

a car except at a snail's pace if I had to drive. Not for myself—because nothing would make any difference when the stroke came—but for the sake of passengers in my car or others in other cars coming the other way.

There might be a terrible and unexplainable smash-up. Perhaps there have been.

Tailored To Fit

Old Army gag is that of the supply sergeant who asks the rookie private applying for his first uniform: "Do you want it too big or too little to be one or the other in those days. But maybe it's different now."

Story from Fort Bragg, N. C., says a quartermaster's tailor shop has been set up where enlisted men's uniforms will be altered to fit with no expense to the men. Uniforms will also be mended or patched.

Whether other posts have that system I don't know, but I have observed that the uniforms I see on the streets appear to fit better than those of the first World War. The Fort Bragg story says most of the uniforms fit pretty well when first issued. Misfits appear because the men change shapes and weights after a few days of Army exercise and a balanced diet.

Good Morning

By LOUIE D. NEWTON.

"INASMUCH . . ." This is Friday before Easter, sometimes spoken of as Black Friday—the day on which the Son of God was crucified for the sins of the world. I can never think of it as Black Friday. I can only think of it as the bright day in the fulfillment of God's promise to provide a ransom for the sins of the many. True, it was a day of unspeakable suffering. True, the sun did hide his face, and the rocks trembled. True, they nailed Him to the heavy cross which He bore up Golgotha's hill. True, they put a crown of thorns on His blessed brow, and pierced His side with the cold, sharp blade. True, the Son of God died that day.

But look! Look at that cross again! Listen to the dying words of the Son of God: "It is finished!" He had borne our sins upon the cruel tree. He had paid the price. He had wrought the Atonement. He had become our Substitute—the just for the unjust. Reconciliation had been effected. And, blessed thought, the Son of God not only did that, and said that on the day of His crucifixion, but, according to prophecy—His own prophecy linked with the words of the prophets of old—He arose from the new grave in Joseph's garden on the morning of the third day.

Thinking of the risen Savior today, and of the risen, reigning Lord next Sunday, Christians everywhere will be asking this question: Master, what wilt Thou have me to do? Where would we find You today, where You once again in the form of man, walking the roads and lanes of this troubled world?

And, for many of us, there is a ready and compelling answer. Jesus once said: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these My brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

Does any Christian doubt for a moment that our blessed Lord would be in the midst of the starving, stricken, suffering millions of earth, were He again in our midst in the form of man? That would mean, surely, that He would be yonder in China and Greece and Spain and France and Poland and Norway, and every other place where there is human suffering. He would be in the prisons where soldiers and civilians need bread and clothes and medicine and sympathy.

Very well, Southern Baptists are asked to give $300,000 next Sunday—Easter Sunday—for relief work among the millions of starving peoples in the war-torn areas of earth. Georgia Baptists are asked to give at least $30,000 of this amount. Every Baptist in Georgia who reads this column will remember the appeal that has been made through the Christian Index, the commission, and by your pastor. Your heart, surely, will promptly and generously respond to this unprecedented emergency appeal, for Christ's sake. And whilst we, as Baptists, are making our gifts for this great cause, our Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopalian and other Christian friends will be making their gifts on Easter, remembering the word of Jesus, "Inasmuch . . ." A little Want Ad in The Constitution does many a BIG job.

Weight-Lifters In Meet Here Saturday Night

South's Best Threaten Records in AAU Competition.

Strong men from all over the south will gather in Atlanta Saturday night to compete in the Mid-South A. A. U. Open and Novice Weight-Lifting championships to be held at the "Y." Quite a few new records should be set from the reports of the lifts that are being made in pre-meet practice by some of the lifters.

Leonard Clemmer, of Belmont, N. C., says he will break all three records in the 165-pound class with his 785-pound total, and he will if he makes a total like that. Clemmer is one of the very few men in the world who can clean and jerk 300 pounds at a body-weight of 150 pounds.

From Fort Benning come reports that their team expects to take most of the medals, as they have a very strong team entered. Heading the list from Fort Benning are Morris Marcus and Charles Neitling, Ohio State weight-lifting champions. Neitling is one of the best heavyweights in the United States.

Heading the local entries is Charles Dorch, who expects to press in the 148-pound class, set a new record in the two hands Dorch has been lifting around 235 pounds on the press lately, which is five pounds over the mid-south record.

The novice division will have plenty of competition with teams from Chattanooga, Tech High school and Georgia Military Academy entered.

Edwards, of G. M. A., and Cabel, of Tech High, should have quite a battle in the 148-pound class. The events get under way Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

DENVER, April 2.—(AP)—Denver University is going into the Big Seven conference baseball race the right way. There is not a single left-handed batter or thrower on the squad.

All in the Game

BY JACK TROY

Game's Greatest This is the 102d year of organized baseball. A full century and two years of play since Abner Doubleday laid out a rough diamond which has scarcely varied to this day.

Naturally the game has produced many great stars; it is difficult to single out the greatest nine of all time.

It would seem almost an impossibility to fairly name the one player who stands out above all the rest. But it has been done.

The player is Tyrus Raymond Cobb, the Georgia Peach; he was chosen as greatest of all time in a poll of players and managers conducted by J. G. Taylor Spink, an esteemed friend who publishes the official publication of the game, The Sporting News.

One hundred and two votes were cast, and Cobb received 60. The other 42 votes were divided among 14 players, as follows:

John Henry (Honus) Wagner, 17; George Herman (Babe) Ruth, 11; Rogers Hornsby and Ross Youngs, 2; Ed Delahanty, Lou Gehrig, Tris Speaker, Jerry Denny, Joe DiMaggio, Mel Ott, George Sisler, Eddie Collins, Walter Johnson and Christy Mathewson, one each.

Remarkable thing about the poll is the fact that there was no question in the minds of the voters as to the greatest player. Cobb was selected by an overwhelming majority.

'Hard, Clean Player' Some of the replies to the question: "Who do you regard as the greatest player of all time, and why?" are highly interesting.

EDDIE COLLINS answered: "Obvious."

CONNIE MACK: "He surpassed all the players that I remember." (Editor's note: Mr. Mack has been active in the game for well over half a century.)

BILLY SOUTHWORTH: "Cobb's base running and all-around ability match Ruth's slugging."

ROGER PECKINPAUGH: "He wasn't the slugger Ruth was, but he could do everything else."

DONIE BUSH: "He loved to win."

DEL BAKER: "He went out and made his own breaks. He was a battler."

CHARLES W. MEARS, of Cleveland, who wrote the winning fan letter: "Great pitcher, sensational home run hitter, highest paid star of all time. Ruth was masterful mechanically, but Ty Cobb was a blaze of fire."

GEORGE SISLER: "If you played during the years that he was burning up the league, you could never forget the Georgian. I know that I never will."

JOHN (RED) CORRIGAN: "He had baseball intuition. He was a hard, clean player. Sure, he was tough, but you had to be in those days."

IRA THOMAS: "He was not only a great ball player, but he disrupted the other team's morale by the chances he took and usually got away with. Once he got on the bases, I would rather give him credit for a run than let him get around the bases and cause anywhere from four to five runs' damage before he was through."

Meagher Faithful Elmer George Salter, Auburn's efficient publicity director, spent the last couple of days here with the Auburn baseball team and reported that Jack Meagher, the little Marine, is faithful to his favorite branch of the service.

Fourteen freshmen, who'll be sophomores, and four juniors, who'll be seniors, have enlisted in the Marines, subject to call. Meanwhile, they'll play football for Auburn next fall.

Meagher was a captain of Marines in the last war.

Calls to the colors have riddled the Auburn coaching staff. Gone are Porter Grant, Boats Chambless, Buddy McCollum, Bobby Blake and Osmo Smith.

Only Meagher, Ralph Jordan and Jimmy Hitchcock are left. Meagher's two assistants are reserve officers.

Salter himself, who coaches freshman basketball, formerly had a ranking of second lieutenant, and already has applied for a renewal.

Jacket Nine Opens Against P. C. Today

Track Team Tackles Tide Here Saturday

Tech Tennis Outfit Plays Ole Miss This Weekend.

By JOHNNY BRADBERRY. Georgia Tech's spring athletic teams will swing into action this weekend so take your choice:

BASEBALL: With only two men from last year's mediocre team returning, the Yellow Jackets will battle Presbyterian today and Saturday in the opening series of the season. Today's game starts at 5 o'clock and Saturday's at 3.

Jack Brock, one of the two veterans, will start on the hill for Roy Dundorf's nine. The other old-timer, Carlton Lewis, will be on first base.

The starting second baseman will come from Gene McNinney, Stinky Stein, or a sophomore named Castagnetta. At shortstop will be another soph, Bonyai. Either Gene Snyder or Jack Crawford will be at third with Bubber Quigg in left field, Buck Andell in center and Vanden Heuvel in right.

TWO CATCHERS.

Ralph Plaster or Jack Morris will catch. Bill Harper, a promising rookie, has a split finger and won't be able to play.

Other pitchers on the short-handed staff are Duck Smith, a right-hander, and Becardi, a left-hander. Dundorf is willing to use any hand-me-downs he can get.

The Jacket outlook is definitely not bright. Indeed, some coaches would call it hopeless.

TRACK: The Yellow Jackets, coached this season by Norris Dean, tackle Alabama at Grant Field Saturday afternoon.

Half a hundred hopefuls have been working out for three or four weeks and several promising individuals have been uncovered. However, the Jacket team isn't expected to be as strong as it was last year when it finished a fast third to L. S. U. and Alabama in the Southeastern Conference meet.

Then, too, Jim Kuhn, Dean's star hurdler, has been called home because of his mother's illness and won't be able to compete in the opening meet. So it looks as if the Jackets will be licking but not until they score a lot of points.

RYCKELEY READY.

Ed Ryckele, of football fame, will run in the 100 and 220. He finished second to Billy Brown in the 100 in the conference meet last year and third to Brown and Charley Boswell in the 220. He turned in a recent race recently in trials. Stewart Duggan and Pat McHugh will be other entries in both these events.

R. H. Johns turned in a 440-yard time of 51 seconds recently and will be in this event by Duggan and Joe Justice.

Other big star of the team is Ed Coughlin, the miler, who finished second in the conference. He ran 4:33 in trials.

Other entrants will be Quinton Farmer in the 880; Billy Webb in the pole vault; George Webb in the javelin, and Jack Helms and Preston West in the weights.

TENNIS. GOLF: The tennis team will be in action at the Tech courts against Mississippi Saturday while the golfers will be battling Tennessee in Knoxville.

Charles Lindsay and Boneyard Johnson led the netmen to a victory over Clemson in the first match of the season and will be favored over Ole Miss.

LADY LIFE GUARD.

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 2.—(AP) A woman life guard has been appointed to watch over the swimmers in the pool of the General Oglethorpe hotel. Mrs. Arthur Koon, formerly of New Orleans, who took part in athletics at Tulane University, will act as life guard and conduct classes in swimming.

VISITING YANKS.—On a recent visit to St. Petersburg, Fla., Herbert Z. (Zeke) Hopkins, president of Civitan International, spent some time with the Yanks. Hopkins, an Atlantan, is shown above with Marse Joe McCarthy and Joe DiMaggio. The Cards beat the Yanks two games and Prexy Hopkins believes Billy Southworth has something this year. He is not selling the Yanks short in the American League race, however.

Dorothy Kirby Retains Her Titleholders' Crown

Atlanta Girl Finishes With 239, Five Strokes Ahead of Aileen Stubb; Suggs 3rd.

By DOROTHY KIRBY. AUGUSTA COUNTRY CLUB, April 2.—I am really thankful at this point to say that I won the Titleholders' tournament for the second time. I had a not-so-good 83 today for a total of 239.

I was playing with Eileen Stubb, who was eight strokes back at the start of the round but how she did pick them up as we went on! She was out in a 37 while I had a big 41. I couldn't seem to get started on this front side and the harder I tried the worse things seemed to get.

So finally I just relaxed and let the ball go where it would. I had Eileen four strokes at the end of nine. As we got to the 12th I was only two strokes ahead of her and so from here on, it turned out to be a match play affair. From what I could find out on the course Eileen was the one to watch.

KIRBY MARCHES ON. I picked up a stroke on her on the 13th after she three-putted and also got another stroke on the short 14th when she three-putted once more. I was four strokes ahead now and we tied the 15th and 16th, but I played very dumb on the 17th and lost a stroke to be three up going to the 18th.

Here I got a par 4 and Eileen took a six, needing three putts again. She finished with a very fine 80. So I would call myself lucky to come out on top.

Georgia Tainter was low for the day, shooting a 79 and hitting her shots much better. She tied Helen Hicks Harb for fourth place. Helen had an 85 today for a 247 total. Eileen, of course, was second with 244. Louise Suggs was third with an 85 today for 246. Those seem to be the main scores of the tournament.

WINS $75 DEFENSE BOND. The first prize was a $75 defense bond which I was glad to add to the one I won at Miami. I also got $10 worth of defense stamps for the low score the first day. I am rather well satisfied at the moment, even though I didn't care for the score I shot today, but you can't have everything, I guess.

There was a meeting of the title-

Tunney Aides Sign Sports Stars Here as Physical Instructors

Uncle Sam's Navy again dipped into the ranks of former southern athletes as enlistments of physical instructors in Lieutenant Commander Gene Tunney's program were in order in Atlanta yesterday.

Tunney was not present but two of his aides, Lieutenant W. O. Leckie and Chief Yeoman Richard A. Storm, were swamped with applicants all day.

Among those who will be enlisted, provided their physical examinations and other papers are in order, are Roy Huggins, ex-Vandy star; Roy Archer, of Oglethorpe; Buist Warren, of Tennessee; Dennis Burge, former L. S. U. assistant coach; Bill Badgett, of Georgia; Lou Thomas, ace Tulane tailback last season; Gene Alexander, of South Carolina; John Piombo, of Florida, and Ray Standley, of Texas Christian University.

The enlistments are going on all over the country and the idea is to obtain capable men as physical instructors for the Navy. Those selected will be given ratings as Chief Specialists.

About 1,400 men are to be selected at present and the number is expected to be increased to 3,000.

A college degree and experience in physical training are the requirements.

Dodgers Send Lester Burge, 3 Other Players to Montreal

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., April 2.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers sent Outfielder Tom Tatum, Catcher Dixie Howell and First Baseman Les Burge to Montreal, of the International League, today under optional agreements and loaned Catcher Herman Franks to the same club.

As the Dodgers prepared to break camp, it was announced that six players would remain here and work out with the Montreal team, rejoining the Brooklyn squad at Charlotte, N. C., Monday. They are Kirby Higbe, Fred Fitzsimmons, Johnny Allen, Les Webber, John Kraus and Charley Gelbert.

Who'll Throw the First Ball? Fans Again Asked To Decide

Last year, instead of importing some national celebrity, the Atlanta Crackers asked the fans to choose whom they considered the No. 1 fan, of Atlanta, to pitch the first ball on opening day.

The idea met with such tremendous success that it is being tried again. The people's choice will again be the central figure in pre-game ceremonies, according to President Earl Mann's plans.

Who's your favorite fan—man or woman? Votes will determine the winner, whose reward will be a season pass for self and one. Get busy and send in your ballots to the "Fan Contest," Atlanta Crackers, Ponce de Leon park.

Ballots will appear daily in Atlanta newspapers, and all ballots must be mailed not later than midnight, Sunday, April 5. Be sure and mail the ballots to the ball park, not the newspapers.

Georgians Can't Grow Too Much Cotton Now, WPB Informs Parley Here

By ROLFE EDMONDSON.
Georgia and southern products are going to help win this war!

That is the opinion of Captain C. B. Barre, of the Army-Navy Munitions Board, here yesterday with other specialists of the War Production Board to meet with 500 southern manufacturers and discuss with them priorities and contractual problems.

Among the victory commodities, Captain Barre said, are the peanut, becoming more vital every day as a food product, and cotton. "The peanut," Captain Barre said, "is going to be an economic problem after this war is over. We have already learned that peanut oil takes the place of coconut and olive oils. It is such a satisfactory substitute that it may be that the American people may not care to import the olive and coconut oils which heretofore were imported into this country in vast quantities.

One of Many.
"That's just one of the many items we formerly imported. We are trying to live by a good neighbor policy and if this war lasts long enough we will learn to get along without the thousand and one things we formerly imported from our good neighbors, and that will bring on another economic problem, for our neighbors are going to want us to buy their products as we did before the war."

Cotton Parachute.
"The cotton parachute is proving very satisfactory. It must be made from a long staple cotton, however, and that makes it necessary for more of the Sea Island variety of cotton to be planted. "Blimps and barrage balloons require a tremendous amount of cotton and in my opinion, the south's farmers cannot overplant this year."

Captain Barre was one of several Washington officials who spent yesterday with the 500 southern manufacturers invited here by the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce to discuss their problems with officials of the War Production Board, so that a better understanding could be reached between the manufacturers and the board.

Their meeting opened with a luncheon at the Ansley hotel. Afterwards, the manufacturers and the WPB members met in small groups to discuss their problems. A simple system of priorities alone no longer will suffice," Dr. Joseph Tucker, head priorities specialist, told the gathering at the luncheon.

"The WPB is now operating with the objective of devoting every machine and every ounce of materials which can be used to winning the war. "Retail stores still have considerable stocks on hand and, with a few exceptions, customers are buying as usual—but the handwriting is on the wall," he declared. "Production of refrigerators, vacuum cleaners, electric fans, metal furniture, household rubber goods, telephones, radios, cook stoves and a long list of other products has already either been stopped, or drastically curtailed or will be in the near future. "Durable Goods. "By the middle of the summer, most of the so-called consumers' durable goods which have had so much to do with the high standard of living in the United States will disappear from stores. "Except for a few industries which do not use critical materials or do not have any facilities which can be converted to making parts for use by the Army and Navy, production of goods for consumers is being reduced to the absolute minimum necessary for public health and safety."

John B. Reeves, district manager here for the WPB priorities field service; A. D. McIntyre, acting regional director; Mason Mangum, chief of the WPB business contact section, Washington, and H. Carl Wolf, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, also spoke at the general session.

The necessity to maintain inventories "of a practical minimum" was stressed by Mangum. "The smaller inventory you carry," he told his hearers, "the easier and better it is for the War Production Board to carry on actual war production."

More Rigid Control.
Explaining the development of the priorities system into more rigid control, Dr. Tucker said: "When we were thinking in terms of defense, we adopted a system of priorities, putting the needs of the armed services ahead of civilian demands but permitting virtually unlimited use of the materials and facilities which were left over. That system is no longer enough to meet the requirements for victory.

"Priority ratings and orders are still in use and will continue to be used. The general pattern has been modified rather than fundamentally changed, but the emphasis and the results are very different from what they were six months ago."

Sectional meetings and the experts addressing each were: Housing, Rudolph H. Watson; production requirements, Walton C. Groce; salvage and conservation, L. J. Cambron; Army-Navy munitions, Captain C. B. Barre; maintenance and repair, Dean C. Gallagher; textiles, clothing and leather, Samuel A. Palmer; distribution, Russell Duncan, and iron and steel, Albert Hitchiner.

Wallace Aide Charged With Pro-Nazi Views

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(AP)—A member of the Dies committee told the house today that C. Hartley Grattan, economic analyst for the Board of Economic Warfare, headed by Vice President Wallace, wrote the foreword to a 1940 German "white paper" which attempted "to lay the blame for the invasion of Poland on certain American officials."

"This foreword," added the committee member, Representative Voorhis, Democrat, California, "consists all the way through of a vigorous denunciation of this country's foreign policy of support to England and France."

Voorhis noted that Grattan was one of the men mentioned by Representative Dies, Democrat, Texas, in a letter last Sunday to Vice President Wallace, which charged that 35 officials or employees of the Economic Warfare Board had been linked with Communist-front organizations.

Voorhis made his remarks about the time that the White House was striking out at Dies, chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. William D. Hassett, a presidential secretary, told reporters that Axis radio stations had been repeating the Dies charges against the 35 Warfare Board officials. Hassett said that a German station, another in Vichy and Station Debunk, which purports to be in this country, but actually is in Europe, had broadcast Dies' accusations.

Hassett asserted that the White House was not drawing any conclusions, adding that he thought the "conclusions are quite obvious." At Jasper, Tex., Dies replied that the best way to stop Axis powers from quoting such charges is to rid the public payroll of men who have been affiliated with Communist-controlled organizations.

Hic! Science To Rescue; Chemical Sobers Plastered Pups in Test

By FRANK CAREY.
BOSTON, April 2.—(AP)—A method of getting over a jag three times quicker than is now possible was described today to the nation's leading biologists—but wait a minute, chums, the technique so far is limited to your dog.

Three Harvard physiologists told the American Federation of Societies for Experimental Biology they had administered a chemical to a group of dogs a few hours after getting them bleary-eyed drunk, and found the sobering-up process was three times faster thereafter than during the period before the chemical pick-me-up was given.

Drs. W. W. Westerfeld, Elmer Stotz and Robert Berg said the substance used was sodium pyruvate, and they declared its role was to "burn up" the alcohol in the system, thus speeding a return to sobriety.

The dogs really "tied one on." They were given shots of straight alcohol (wow! and bow wow!) in amounts equivalent to the alcohol consumed by a 130-pound man who takes a half pint of straight whisky without stopping for a breather.

When the pups were properly plastered and apparently not caring if they ever shagged a bone again, the doctors made blood tests and measured the alcohol concentration periodically—both before and after serving the chemical "chaser."

While they offered no suggestions that human barflies take a lesson from the dogs, the doctors pointed out a relationship between the chemicals used on the howlers and the chemical reactions that take place in the human system when a man eats a good meal of carbohydrates before doing any elbow-bending.

They explained that sodium pyruvate is the same chemical produced as one of the breakdown products when carbohydrates like sugar are consumed in the human body.

Other doctors at the meeting said the report left the inference that the sodium pyruvate, if taken in properly controlled quantities, might effect sobriety more quickly than does the ordinary hearty meal.

A Pledge of Service

WE'LL DO OUR BEST TO GIVE YOUR FAVORITE DEALER HIS RESTRICTED SUPPLY OF DR. PEPPER and 7 UP

We sincerely regret that the National Emergency has made it impossible for us to furnish all of our dealers with adequate supplies of Dr. Pepper and 7 Up.

Of course, we're sure you understand that we have had to reduce our output somewhat because of the lack of sugar.

And then, too, we have our problems in getting tires for delivery trucks, etc. All businesses have these or equally difficult problems nowadays.

Our unstinted effort is back of these problems. We want you to have Dr. Pepper and 7 Up. We want you to be able to secure them from your favorite dealer. Please be assured that we are going to work increasingly towards this.

We pledge ourselves to the complete support of National Defense and to a faithful program of "the best service within our power" to all of our customers.

Novel Antique Show Opens At Dunaway Gardens April 12

ANTIQUE COLLECTORS, who are legion everywhere, will have a field day, so to speak, the week of April 12-17. For during that week an antique show will be held in the Patchwork Barn at the Hettie Jane Dunaway Gardens, just this side of Newnan. That nationally known authority on antiques, Pearl Records, of Anderson, Ind., will be in charge of the show, and dealers and collectors from New York, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Alabama and Georgia will bring their most prized antiques for the exhibit.

Though the Dunaway Gardens, one of the beauty spots of Georgia, will be open to visitors on Easter Sunday, the official opening will coincide with the opening of the show at 1 o'clock on Sunday, April 12. At that time the garden, which is just now bursting into bloom, will be a panorama of colorful beauty, with its myriad of azaleas, wisteria, rhododendron, and laurel in full flower.

The antique display will include, in addition to furniture, many articles of historic value, which will be of interest to those who are not collectors. For instance, there will be an array of fine pressed glass, old china, and silver. There will be an exhibit of old guns, another of dolls, and still another of copper and brass primitives. An Atlanta dealer, who specializes in things of historic interest, has planned to exhibit a jug taken from the ruins of an old Florida fort, which dates back to an era preceding Columbus' discovery of America.

Miss Records, who has sponsored antique shows in every section of the country, will display many items from her own collection of fine furniture, jewelry, miniatures, and silver. For example, there will be a handsome brooch and earrings, featuring exquisite miniature paintings on porcelain, which once belonged to the late Hettie Greene. Miss Records makes a specialty of remodeling jewelry, and her display includes many modern designs fashioned from old pieces, such as a fascinating bracelet made of watch chain slides, and a distinctive brooch made of stickpins that gentlemen once wore in their cravats.

No doubt week after next will find all roads leading to the Dunaway Gardens, for who is able to resist the combination of antiques and flowers?

Gauze supplies to make surgical dressings for the Army and the Navy have been received in the surgical dressings work-rooms of the Atlanta Chapter of the Red Cross at 850 West Peachtree street. Volunteers who want to help make surgical dressings and bandages are requested to report for work at 850 West Peachtree street immediately. One Navy quota calls for 95,000 surgical dressings. Another Navy quota of 55,000 must be filled also. In addition, an "American essentials" quota of 50,000 surgical dressings must be completed. Your help is needed now.

A FORMER Atlantan receiving a cordial welcome here is Mrs. William A. MacGregor, of Baltimore, Md., who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Kate Slaton Blanchard. The former Lulu Slaton, Mrs. MacGregor is enjoying a series of informal "get-togethers" with her family and friends, whom she has not seen in some time. It is interesting to know that Mrs. MacGregor's daughter, Mrs. Frank Getman, the former Nancy MacGregor, is one of the best known radio personalities on the NBC network. She is heard daily on "The Big Sister" program, taking the role of Ruth. Her husband is now in South America on a special mission for the Bayer Aspirin Company. A native of Cuba, he speaks Spanish fluently and his mission is one of vast importance to his company.

BIRTHDAY PARTY guests always take presents to the celebrant, but Sally doubts if she ever went home from a party bearing unexpected gifts! However, due to the ingenuity of Mrs. Llewellyn Scott, that is just what will happen today at the birthday luncheon at which she will honor her mother, Mrs. Lawrence Cooper, at the Atlanta Athletic Club.

Present at the affair will be the honor guest's four closest friends, Mesdames Victor Clark, Herbert Ellis, Charles Pope and E. B. Gill, who have attended her birthday celebrations for some years.

None of the four has ever failed to present their beloved friend with a lovely birthday remembrance. This time the tables will be turned, for besides the large birthday cake, gleaming with lighted candles, that will be cut by Mrs. Cooper, similar chocolate cakes are to be given to the four guests to take home with them. Spring flowers will adorn the center of the table, and the covers will be marked by place-cards carrying out the beautiful Easter motif.

WHEN THAT well-known educator, Miss Marjorie Webster, of Washington, D. C., was here Wednesday, a local alumnae club of the school which bears her name was formed. The organization meeting took the form of a luncheon given at the Georgian Terrace by Miss Webster. The table was decorated in the school colors and the placecards featured etchings of the school gateway.

Mrs. James Porter, of the class of '28, was named chairman of the new club. Dagmar Peterson was elected secretary, and Mrs. Eiam Stalker will serve as treasurer. Among others present were Mrs. M. Nathan, Mrs. Arthur McNeil, and Shirley Massell, Nanie Keeler, Louise Jones, Julian Boykin, Valerie Blackhall, Ann Funke, Evelyn Block, Betty Elliott, Mary Hurt Clayton, Bettinae Reams and Mary Burtzloff.

Miss Webster will leave Atlanta today for Cordoba, where she will give the Easter sermon at the Baptist church there. Upon her return here on Monday she will remain here for some time before returning to the national capital.

GLIMPSED here and there: Sydney Klein Davis looking chic in dusty pink slacks topped by a pale blue jacket, and giving her guests a pep at the new litter of cocker spaniel puppies, which she breeds. . . I. N. Willis and his sister, Catherine, supervising the planting of roses in the garden of their new home. . . Betty Marshall looking pretty in a grass skirt and lei of flowers at the recent O. B. X. masquerade ball. . . Charlotte Galquard ball. . . Charlotte Galquard boarding the southbound plane at Candler airport en route to spend Easter weekend at Atlantic Beach. . . Bride-elect Barbara Indell wearing a voluminous model of gray and daffodil yellow chiffon at a recent party held in her honor. . . Mrs. John L. Conner, just home from Florida, looking very attractive with her deep sun tan. . . Mrs. E. Blair Proctor looking stylish in flag red cape.

Mrs. Witherspoon Heads Civic Club.

Mrs. O. W. Witherspoon was elected president of the Civic Club of West End at the meeting held recently. Other officers serving with Mrs. Witherspoon are Mrs. Asa Dwight, first vice president; Mrs. Claude Key, second vice president; Mrs. Ralph Grimes, treasurer; assistant treasurer, Mrs. L. Z. Fleming; Mrs. D. O. Cogbill, recording secretary; Mrs. G. H. Howard, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. Fred Russell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. T. Stallings, parliamentarian; Mrs. Mary M. Connolly, auditor. Installation ceremony was conducted by Mrs. J. H. Savage. Officers and chairmen submitted written reports covering a wide range of activities for the year just ended. Mrs. Asa Dwight, first vice president, presented Mrs. E. T. Stallings, retiring president, with a gift from the membership of the club.

MISS PEARL RECORDS.

Mr., Mrs. Harry Templeman Spend Honeymoon in Miami

Harry Penn Templeman and his bride, the former Miss Marian Ozburn Turnipseed, are honeymooning in Miami, Fla., following their marriage, which was brilliantly solemnized Saturday afternoon at Park Street Methodist church at 5:30 o'clock.

Rev. E. Nash Broyles read the marriage service, prior to which a program of music was presented by Miss Geraldine Chapman, soloist. Against an embankment of palms, ferns and smilax were posed candelabra which held lighted white tapers and urns filled with Easter lilies and white gladioli and snapdragons. Clusters of white gladioli tied with satin ribbons marked the pews.

The groomsmen were Arthur F. Hale, Henry P. Peacock, L. Milton Cavender and L. E. Wilson. The groom's brother, George B. Templeman, served as best man.

Mrs. Arthur F. Hale, who was her sister's matron of honor, wore a stunning sunray yellow taffeta model fashioned with a snug-fitting bodice and a bouffant skirt. She carried a bouquet of talisman roses and bronze snapdragons center with King Alfred daffodils. The bridesmaids, Miss Virginia Sutton, Mrs. Henry P. Peacock, and the bride's cousins, Miss Kay Godfrey and Miss Betty Jean Turnipseed, wore pistache green taffeta gowns styled like Mrs. Hale's. They carried bouquets of King Alfred daffodils. The attendants wore gold bracelets, which were gifts of the bride.

The flower girls were Virginia Ray Lockhart and Judy Wilson, a niece of the groom. They wore sunray yellow taffeta dresses and carried nosegays of talisman roses and bronze snapdragons centered with King Alfred daffodils.

George Hendrix Turnipseed gave his daughter in marriage. The lovely young bride, who possesses wavy dark hair and blue eyes, was gownned in a beautiful white net and Alencon lace model fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and leg-o'-mutton sleeves. The bouffant skirt extended to form a train at the back. Her veil of illusion tulle was caught to a coronet of orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a necklace, loaned her by Mrs. L. E. Wilson. She carried a bouquet of orchids and white roses showered with swainsons.

Mr. and Mrs. Turnipseed entertained at a reception at their home

Narcissus Show Judges Named

The Rose Garden Club announced the list of judges for the narcissus show, to be held at the Biltmore hotel April 7 as follows: In classes I and II, William G. Ellis, of New York; Mrs. LeRoy Rogers and Donald Hastings. In Class III, Mrs. Walter Lamb, Mrs. Davis Webster and Mrs. Arthur Clarke. In Classes IV through VI, Mrs. H. G. Cox, of Monroe; Mrs. Fletcher Crown and Mrs. Dugas McCleskey.

The club will give a luncheon in honor of the judges on the day of the show to which the public is invited. For reservations call Mrs. Charles Marshall, CH. 2238, not later than April 5. The show will be open to the public from 2 until 10 o'clock.

Meeting Postponed.

James Tolbert, of Columbus, To Wed Texas Belle Saturday

COLUMBUS, Ga., April 2.—Cordial interest centers in the announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gaverick Pink, of Harlingen, Texas, of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jane Pink, to James McDuffie Tolbert, of Columbus.

Miss Pink is the only daughter of her parents, and is a young woman of brilliant mental attainments and great personal charm. After receiving her early education in the Harlingen schools she entered the University of Texas, in Austin, where she graduated in 1941 with a bachelor of arts degree in sociology. She is a descendant of noted pioneer families of Texas.

A popular figure in college life, she was a member of Alpha Kappa Delta, honorary sociological fraternity, and was chosen one of the honorees for the bluebonnet belle, a coveted campus honor. Since graduating from the university Miss Pink has been engaged in social service work in the Grace Episcopal church of St. Louis, Mo.

"Contry Square Set" To Hold Dinner.

The "Atlanta Contry Square Set" will hold its annual dinner Monday evening at Lakemore. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock, after which there will be square sets to old-time fiddling.

Reservations may be made by calling Fred Collette at Walnut 7520 by Saturday morning.

Jack Tolbert, of Atlanta, and Archie and Stokes Tolbert, of Emory University. He is a descendant of the McDuffie, Page, McNeill and Byrd families of North Carolina and Virginia, and of the Lane and Tolbert families of Alabama and Georgia. Thomas Nelson Page and Walter Hines Page are among his distinguished forbears. His maternal grandfather, the late Dr. J. H. McDuffie Sr., whose name he bears, was a greatly beloved physician in Columbus for many years.

The wedding will be solemnized in St. Albans Episcopal church in Harlingen on Saturday afternoon April 4 at 4 o'clock, and will be followed by a reception at the home of the bride-elect's parents. After a trip the young couple will reside in New Orleans, La.

Plans Announced For P.-T. Conclave In Gainesville

The thirteenth and fourteenth district divisions of the Georgia Congress of Parents and Teachers will be hosts at the annual state convention, which will be held in Gainesville April 14-16. Mrs. E. E. Carter, of Decatur, director of the thirteenth district, and Mrs. William Butt, of Blue Ridge, director of the fourteenth district, will be assisted by Mrs. C. J. Cheves and Mrs. Bryce Ward, of Gainesville, co-chairmen. "Maintaining Essential Values on the Home Front" will be the theme for the convention program.

Special honors will be accorded the founders and state life members at the annual banquet to be held at the Dixie Hunt hotel April 15. Mrs. Frank C. David, chairman of the committee on endowment fund promotion, announces that the Macon Telegraph cup will be awarded the district leading in gifts to the endowment fund, on a per capita basis. New awards will be the blue, red, and white ribbons given for second, third and fourth places among the districts and among the locals.

Exhibits will be composed of national and state congress publications, publicity recordbooks, posters, and exhibits of co-operating agencies. Delegates to the convention are urged by Mrs. Robert A. Long, president of the Georgia Congress of Parents and Teachers to visit the exhibits. Materials for exhibit at the convention must be in Gainesville not later than April 7. These exhibits, except publicity recordbooks, may be mailed or sent by express to Mrs. John Jackson, 616 West avenue, Gainesville.

Exhibitors are requested to take their exhibits home at the close of the convention.

Publicity recordbooks to be exhibited at the state convention should be sent to Mrs. Conrad J. Romberg, 206 E. North avenue, Gainesville, not later than April 7. Mrs. W. C. Kendrick, chairman of the committee on publicity, announces that all publicity recordbooks exhibited at the state convention must first be sent to the district conference to be exhibited and judged. Only the three receiving the highest rating at each district conference may be sent to the state convention. Each association must be responsible for sending its recordbook to be exhibited to Gainesville. If books contain any handwriting, they must be sent by express.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis To Give Supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis will entertain at a buffet supper on Saturday evening at their home on Stewart drive in honor of Miss Sybil Savage and Paul Galloway, whose marriage will take place on April 19, at Christ the King cathedral. Mr. Galloway is Mrs. Lewis' brother.

Earlier in the day, the bride-elect was complimented at the soft drink party given by Miss Daisy Miller at her home on Rivers road.

Mrs. Lawton Miller and Mrs. Hugh Dobins assisted in entertaining, and the guests included a group of close friends of the bride-to-be.

KATHERINE BLAKE, HOSTESS EDITOR OF VOGUE.

Vogue's Editor, Miss Blake, To Attend Colonial Jubilee

Leading the list of national magazine editors coming to Atlanta for the Grand Colonial Jubilee, the gala event sponsored by the Young Matrons' Circle for Tallulah Falls school and set for Rich's Magnolia room on Wednesday evening, April 8, is Katherine Blake, hostess editor of Vogue.

Since she joined the Vogue staff in 1936, Miss Blake has concerned herself with subjects dear to the successful hostess—gracious and graceful entertaining. The hostess features which she plans for the Vogue include the fundamental problem of food, the proper wines to accompany those foods and silver, linen and decorations for the table.

Table setting is one of her chief interests, and much thought centers upon settings to be photographed for her department. Assortments of silver and linen for the bride come within her editorial jurisdiction. The Grand Colonial Jubilee's table arrangement competition involving 24 garden clubs will be a feature of the affair.

Equally interesting will be the name costumes forming the highlight of the silver pageant, and the modern style show presenting members of the circle in the newest collection of spring and summer fashions from leading American designers.

May Flower Show Schedule Is Announced by Chairmen

The Eggleston Memorial hospital will benefit from funds accruing from the Peachtree Garden Club flower show to be held on May 5, at the Piedmont Driving Club. Exhibitors are required to fill and return entry cards before April 25, to Mrs. C. C. Case at 2625 Woodward way. Mesdames Virgil Shulze and Roby Robinson are co-chairmen, and ribbons will be awarded prize winners and one blue ribbon will be awarded the sweepstake winner for best arrangement.

Mrs. Cobb Caldwell is chairman of the arrangement in the manner of 1925, in which Peachtree Garden Club members will exhibit. Mrs. Frank Player is in charge of the surrealist class after the manner of Salvatore Dali. Mrs. P. C. McDuffie is chairman of the arrangements of any cut plant material typical of this section. The sweet smelling posy class has Mrs. Arthur Tufts as chairman, and judges will be blindfolded to judge fragrance.

Junior Flower Show Association members will compete in the bedside trays arranged for children in Eggleston hospital, and Mrs. Fred Minnich has this class under her supervision. The miniature arrangement class open to Atlanta and Junior Flower Show associations, has Mrs. Jesse Draper as chairman. Mrs. Jackson Dick is in charge of the economy arrangement, the cost not to exceed $1. Mesdames Edgar Paullin and Reuben Arnold are chairmen of the best collection of flowers grown by exhibitor and displayed in uniform wooden buckets and gourds. They are in charge of the best collection of vegetables grown by exhibitor to be shown in a wooden kitchen bowl.

Mrs. Malcolm Fleming is chairman of the Johnny-Jump-Ups class to be exhibited by members under nine years old who are gardeners of the future. The arrangement for a doll house will have no restrictions imposed upon the exhibitor. The flowers and vegetables must be grown by exhibitor or club member and entry blanks can be obtained from club presidents. A nominal fee will be asked for entrance to the flower show.

An empty house is more expensive than a Want Ad in The Constitution that will rent it.

Mrs. Charles Kurtz Is Popular Guest Of Mrs. J. H. Small

Among charming and popular visitors in the city is Mrs. Charles M. Kurtz, of York, Pa., who is the guest of Mrs. James H. Small at her home on Walker Terrace. Mrs. Kurtz is a frequent visitor to Atlanta and is being accorded a warm welcome by her numerous friends.

The visitor will be honored Sunday evening at the small informal dinner party to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Elvira Carswell at their home on Dellwood drive.

Mrs. Kurtz was honored yesterday at the informal luncheon given by Mrs. Small at her home.

Colorful spring flowers featured the decorations, and covers were laid for a group of intimate friends.

The visitor, who is en route home, has been spending the winter in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.; Sea Island Beach, Ga.; Daytona Beach and Palm Beach, Fla. She will be Mrs. Small's guest for two weeks, and while here will provide the inspiration for a number of informal social affairs, the dates and nature of these to be announced later.

Mrs. Buchanan Heads Circle.

Mrs. W. T. Buchanan was installed president of the Needlecraft Circle at a recent luncheon meeting. Other officers named were: First vice president, Mrs. W. L. Crawley; second vice president, Mrs. Henry Longino; recording secretary, Mrs. Harold Le Vert Jr.; treasurer, Mrs. R. F. Wells; assistant treasurer, Mrs. J. R. Bramlett.

The table was decorated with spring flowers, carrying out the club colors—lavender and gold. A handsome piece of silver was presented Mrs. Marion Perry, the retiring president.

WATCH YOUR CHILD EAT

Milk

With a Spoon

There's no doubt children need plenty of the nourishment that milk supplies best... calcium for strong teeth, body-building proteins, protective vitamins.

Yet many children get tired of drinking so much milk; some cannot digest it readily. Here's an easy way to increase daily milk consumption. Make it into delicious eggless, non-cooked custards with "Junket" Rennet Powder (six flavors). Takes but a minute, and these colorful, tempting desserts appeal to the appetite of everyone. The rennet enzyme makes them easier to digest than plain milk. (At all grocers).

For economy, make rennet-custards also with "Junket" Rennet Tablets—unflavored, add sugar and flavor to taste. (At drug stores and grocers).

FREE—Book of Fun for Boys and Girls! 24 pages of Puzzles, Tricks, Games, Cartoon Drawings for children from 3 to 11. Absolutely free—nothing to send. Just write "The Junket" Folks, Dept. 126D, Little Falls, New York.

Announcement is made today by Mrs. Adel H. Bishop of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Elsie Dora Bishop, to Lieutenant Harold Groover Dempsey, of East Point and Camp Shelby, Miss.

The bride-elect was graduated with honors from William A. Russell High school. She is a member of Phi chapter, Tau Beta Phi national sorority, having served as president for 1940-41.

Miss Bishop's mother is the former Miss Adel Hearn and her father is the late Henry A. Bishop. Her maternal grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. William P. Hearn. On her paternal side, she is the granddaughter of Mrs. Dora Bishop and the late Dr. Virgil Bishop. Her only sister is Mrs. J. Marvin Jones, and her brothers are Henry A. and J. Edwin Bishop.

Lieutenant Dempsey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wade Dempsey, of East Point. He was graduated from William A. Russell High school where he excelled in athletics. He is a member of the Elks and Phi Delta Kappa fraternity.

The bridegroom-elect's mother is the former Miss Lena Hill, daughter of Mrs. S. L. Erwin, of Roswell, and the late J. P. Hill. His father is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Will Dempsey, of Roswell. He is the brother of Miss Sara Eleanor Dempsey and J. W. Dempsey Jr.

After their marriage, the couple will reside in Hattiesburg, Miss.

The marriage of Miss Mary Kathryn McKenney, of Woodbury, to Gratton Hocutt, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., was solemnized March 21, at Druid Hills Baptist church by Dr. Louie D. Newton.

A program of organ music was presented by Paul Maffett. The ushers-groomsman were Jay L. and R. E. McKenney, of Atlanta, brothers of the bride.

Miss Frances McKenney, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and only attendant. She wore a beige crepe dress and her hat was a black straw. She wore patent leather accessories and her flowers were Joanna Hill roses and blue orchids.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Acting as best man was Hefflin Pate, of Tuscaloosa, Ala. The bride wore a two-piece model of chalk green crepe. Her hat was a black straw trimmed with feathers and a veil. She wore patent leather accessories. Her flowers were pink orchids with purple throats. Her only ornament was a mother of pearl locket.

After the wedding the bride's brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jay L. McKenney, entertained at an informal reception at their home. A three-tiered wedding cake centered the bridal table. Misses Ruth and Rachel McKenney assisted in serving. Mrs. W. P. Newman kept the bride's book.

Miss Lula Turner, of Newnan, Marries Jack Hart Williams

NEWNAN, Ga., April 2.—Enlisting sincere and cordial interest is the announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. Lynch Turner, of this city, of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lula Powell Turner, to Jack Hart Williams, of Atlanta, which was quietly solemnized this evening. Dr. Ronald C. Young read the marriage service in the presence of the families and a few friends.

The lovely young bride is the sister of Mrs. Edgar W. McKenzie, of Montezuma. She attended the University of Georgia in Athens, where she belonged to the Chi Omega fraternity.

Mr. Williams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Williams, of Atlanta, formerly of San Francisco, Cal. He is the brother of Mrs. Ruth Murphy, of Atlanta; Mrs. Frank Barick, of Van Nuys, Cal., and Leonard Williams, of San Francisco. He attended the San Francisco State College and is attending Woodrow Wilson College of Law, where he is a member of Sigma Delta Kappa fraternity. He is employed by the War Department at the Atlanta General Depot.

Guests were Misses Bobby Grier, Ann Burney, Rosetta Eblanila, formerly of San Francisco, right, Doris Dalton and Margie Dean.

O. B. X. Members Given House Party.

Mrs. James T. Williams is entertaining a house party at her country home on Blackrock Mountain, Clayton, honoring her sister, Miss Rae King, and a group of her freshmen O. B. X. sorority sisters at North Avenue Presbyterian school. The guests are Alice Lawrence, Louise Sharp, Anne Joiner, Anne Ransom, Joan Rae, Mary Jane Dripp and Lucy Rice.

Harper's Bazaar says: "Put your money in a good suit or a dress that looks like a suit."

Regenstein's Peachtree says: Next on our Southern calendar are our dark sheer suit dresses—tailored with crisp pique or feminine with lingerie white.

Harper's Bazaar says: "Buy several blouses at a time to vary the tune of your Spring suit."

Regenstein's Peachtree says: We've a pretty collection of polka dots and sizzling stripes along with our frothy white blouses.

Harper's Bazaar says: "Wear color... the English found it stiffened the spine."

Regenstein's Peachtree says: We're alive with color-bright accessories, red box coats, spirited hats and twinkling red shoes.

Harper's Bazaar says: "Buy gloves by the half dozen in spic and span white, in colors to match your hat and blouse."

Regenstein's Peachtree says: Our collection of gloves from white to bright colors is most complete—all washable in fabrics and Kislov doeskins.

Harper's Bazaar says: "Wear a black moire or faille suit when you go dining and dancing with your man in uniform."

Regenstein's Peachtree says: We've both that you'll love when worn with pink frills, a ravishing hat and pale pink gloves.

Harper's Bazaar says: "With dresses so simple and suits so workmanlike, it's the hat that's the flatterer."

Regenstein's Peachtree says: Beautiful hats are a tradition with us. This Easter our hats are more irresistible than ever.

Harper's Bazaar says: "Just as soon as it's warm enough DO wear cottons."

Regenstein's Peachtree says: We're off to an early start with cottons—cottons rugged and functional, fragile and feminine—cottons for that fresh spic-and-span look—right for the way we want to look today.

Left to right, Mrs. Henry Taylor Jr. and little daughter, Louise, and her mother, Mrs. Enos Hartman, assemble Easter baskets and plush bunnies to be used Saturday when St. Luke's Circle of St. Luke's church sponsors an Easter egg hunt. The hunt will take place at the home of former Governor John M. Slaton and Mrs. Slaton on Peachtree road. The general chairman is Mrs. Joseph Hamilton.

Stage Producer of "Life With Father" Holds Out for His Own Movie Version

HOLLYWOOD, April 2.—(INS) Oscar Serlin, producer of the gold mine, "Life With Father," and John Steinbeck's "The Moon Is Down," will continue to refuse all movie offers. The reason is very simple. Serlin is setting up an independent company and will make the pictures himself as soon as they cease to be stage attractions. He has a major release and, while I don't want to be quoted, I hear 'tis United Artists.

Naturally, Russell Crouse and Howard Lindsay, authors of "Life With Father," and John Steinbeck, who is making plenty of money with his book, "The Moon Is Down," as well as his play, will share in the profits. I mean, of course, of their own plays.

Michele Morgan, whose naive crack when she was invited to the President's birthday ball, "Oh, does he speak to actors?" had all Washington laughing, has just about wrapped up for herself a three-picture deal at Warner's. In fact at the present she is on the Burbank lot testing for a picture originally bought for Bette Davis in "Casa Blanca." The inside tip is Hal Wallis plans to transform the pretty French actress into a de luxe glamor girl—this in spite of glowing reviews on her acting talents in "Joan of Paris." I had always thought RKO had exclusive call on the Morgan services, but it seems she is free to make outside commitments—which, in the Warner deal, calls for three films a year.

Just heard that Luise Rainer is being tested for the mother role in "Dragon Seed." Not surprising for it was in the movie version of "Good Earth," the other Pearl S. Buck best seller, that Luise won an Oscar. She is on the stage in "A Kiss for Cinderella" in New York. The test is to be made in New York, and John Considine Jr. says he requested it because of the many letters he has received suggesting La Rainer for the role. He said some people thought she would be good as Jade, but I think Hedy Lamarr is a much better choice for the glamorous daughter-in-law. The fans all take a hand in casting these best sellers. My mail on "The Sun Is My Undoing" is amazing.

Sonja Henie, who is back at the Beverly Hills hotel to get ready for "Ice Land," her 20th Century-Fox movie, says she and Dan Topping knew nothing about Pat Di Cicco's battle with the clerk at the Drake hotel until the next day, when it was in the newspapers. Gloria Vanderbilt and Pat had come to the Topping apartment to make the spaghetti and he wanted a certain type of pot to cook it in. Sonja says she and Dan took plenty of kidding. She came on two weeks ahead of time to practice her skating and get her costumes ready. Dan comes next week. At the moment he is in Washington trying to get into the Navy.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Marge Plant, widow of the late Phil Plant, and Dick Foran are finding each other good company; Brenda Joyce has darkened her tresses. Saw her in the beauty parlor and she told me her bridegroom, Owen Ward, has been transferred elsewhere; Mrs. Gregory Ratoff is in the Cedars of Lebanon hospital with a bad case of flu and Gregory has been parking there; Joan Fontaine boasts of the first sunburn of the season; Mrs. Bing Crosby is reported recovering from her operation; Billy Halop, who carried a torch for Georgiana Young (Loretta's sister) for so long, is giving Suzanne Rowe a rush; Henry Fonda is at 20th and it's good news he won't lose a finger he crushed in the tractor. That's all today. See you tomorrow! But Betty Hayes, of Sherman Oaks, says: "Buy defense bonds. Let's even the score with the Japs and their scheme by making our bombers reign supreme."

MY DAY: Y.W.C.A. Work Grows In South America

By Eleanor Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday.—This has been a busy day. Mr. Koussevitsky, who conducted the concert for the benefit of Russian relief last night, and Mrs. Edward Watson came to lunch. I was delighted to hear that he hopes to continue the music school in Stockbridge, Mass., this summer and already has 400 applications.

I was afraid that the tire shortage and similar problems might keep people from attending the concert, but perhaps trains and buses can be used. Certainly, music-loving people will make every effort to be there, for there is no more delightful spot in which to enjoy music.

Two groups of young people, who are visiting Washington, were received during the afternoon. I only hope that these young people get a sense of the way in which everyone is working in Washington, for it will give them a realization of the need for their own participation in the war effort where they live.

At tea time, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Endicott Peabody came in, and it was a joy to see them both. Miss Ruth F. Woodsmall also came in to talk over her trip. She is leaving today on an extended tour to Mexico and South America to represent the Y. W. C. A. She spent much time before in Europe and the Far East and is familiar with the work done by the Y. W. C. A. the world over.

The effort to make Y. W. C. A. work more valuable to our neighbors to the south of us and to bring closer understanding between the Protestant organizations and all existing organizations now working in these countries, should be of great value in developing better understanding, especially among the women.

Miss Woodsmall is traveling by air and it was interesting to reflect how much a year has changed our point of view. We used to think that air travel, especially over the ocean, was somewhat hazardous. Today it is looked upon as being far safer than any passenger steamer.

Last night Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt, who is staying with us; Mrs. Cameron Clark, Mr. Walter Thayer Jr. and Mr. David Bruce came to dine with me, and then we went to the concert given for Russian relief. We enjoyed every minute of it, and I was so happy I could be back in Washington to attend it.

I am returning to New York City this morning, for I am going to be busy there for several days, sorting and packing.

Boy Is Foolish To Give Up At Sight of Engagement Ring

By Dixie George.

Dear Dixie:

I do not quite agree with the girl whose letter you recently published about there being no good in men. I know quite a few men who have not double-crossed their wives and never will, because they are satisfied with their part of the bargain. I feel so strongly on this subject that I am writing to you for advice, for there is a problem on my mind. I want to do the right and honorable thing, yet love has about made me overlook it. I never believed in love at first sight, but it has happened and got the best of me.

The girl I am in love with is wearing an engagement ring belonging to another. When we are together she wears it on her right hand, and other times on her left. Why does she switch hands when we are together? If she loved this man enough to accept his ring and his proposal, why doesn't she wear the ring on the hand and finger designated for an engagement ring all the time? We are very much in love. I have not mentioned her breaking her engagement with the other man. Would it be fair to all concerned if she did break her engagement to marry me? Or should I fade out of the picture and let things stand as they are? She means everything to me. Should I keep after her about this in this world when I want these things? This girl dates me all the time and never refuses me kisses. Please help us out. C. J.

If you love this girl and she seems to care for you and continues to go with you, I do not see that you have anything to worry about. She is the one who should be worrying, because she is leading two men along. She is being very unfair to her fiance if she is changing her ring from finger to finger. Are you certain that the ring is an engagement ring? Perhaps the girl has a lovely ring and is trying to impress you and others that she has an admirer who is serious.

Everything is fair in love and war, according to the old saying, and I see no reason why you should not try to win this girl if you are seriously in love with her. Of course, fight for what you want in this world. It is what makes life worth living. People never get anywhere in the world who are easily satisfied with what they have and have no ambition to attain their dreams.

This girl may love you as much as you love her, but if I were you, I would be a bit careful before asking her to marry me, because she seems to take her engagements very lightly, if her present conduct is any indication. Why not ask her point blank if she is engaged? That would clear matters. You have a perfect right to ask her for dates, since she isn't married, and since she seems to be interested in giving them to you.

War Work Can Mean Better Health

By Ida Jean Kain.

From now on, there won't be any appealing females waiting by the roadside for some strong, chivalrous man to come along and change the flat rear tire. Or will there?

At any rate, the women pitching in to do war work are learning to change their own tires, even in a blackout, and to clean cylinders and take a motor apart and put it together again without having any spare parts left over.

Although tinkering with a car has always been regarded as a man's prerogative, it is in the night's work for the various voluntary services recruiting women. The mystery of mechanics is turning out to be surprisingly simple.

As observed by one competent housewife, down on her hands and knees on a garage floor to see what made the wheels of a truck go around, "Why, it's no more complicated than a steam cooker!" You might expect the women who enroll for such heavy duty to be on the hefty order—and some of them are. But the majority are the average, sedentary workers who want an active outlet for their energy after a long day at the office or taking care of a home, but who want, more than anything else, to help out in the defense program. Since they have been working with their muscles, they agree that they feel 100 per cent better.

Such training in mechanics is required for women preparing to drive ambulances and is considered quite an asset for those standing ready to chauffeur for the Army and Navy. Furthermore, it is quite likely that American women will be called upon to take over driving for the truck and bus lines—some of them are already established as taxi drivers. If so, the women will keep 'em rolling.

How does one get into good enough condition to take over this hard work? Exercise, of course. Every one of these units has a good course in calisthenics to strengthen all the muscles but particularly those concerned in the maintenance of balance during heavy lifting. You can't handle a tire or jack up a wheel unless you keep your balance. Otherwise, there is danger of strain. In addition to calisthenics, the trainees have to pass posture tests—walking up ladders with heavy bags of sand, hefting pairs of water, and carrying tubs of water or sand.

POINTS FOR PARENTS

By Edythe Thomas Wallace.

Mother: "When Bill comes in, won't you say something about how nice it is to have two children—a big boy and a little girl? It will help him feel he is not supplanted."

Friend: "Aren't you the lucky person to have this adorable baby girl?"

Mother: "Have you seen Bill? We think we're lucky to have him, too."

A tip to friends ahead of time is better than a later too-obvious effort to prevent an older child from feeling jealous of a new baby.

NEW YORK, April 2.—(AP)—The stock market negotiated another modest rally today in which prices, slightly irregular at the start, soon began to edge forward. While modest fractions were the rule, scattered favorites added 2 or more points. An assortment of small minus signs was in evidence at the close.

The day's improvement was credited mainly to hopes congress was leaning toward a national sales tax, the lack of particularly bearish war news and the further belief the long decline to 4-year lows had put many issues in a position to swing upward if given half a chance.

In the curb, Aluminum of America dropped 3 points in the wake of proposals to raise indebtedness in furtherance of corporate expansion plans. Gains were posted for Brewster, Humble Oil, Gulf Oil and Cities Service.

Juke Joints Banned In Bell Plant Area

Juke joints and similar types of businesses will be taboo in the immediate vicinity of the giant Bell bomber plant to be erected between Smyrna and Marietta.

This was the unanimous conclusion reached yesterday by an advisory committee composed of Army, Fulton and Cobb county, Atlanta and Marietta officials who met in the offices of the Army district engineer.

The committee called together by Colonel R. E. York, district Army engineer, discussed various problems concerning the bomber plant and its employees, and they will meet from time to time as problems arise.

At the meeting, the committee took up training future employees, zoning for the area, housing and transportation.

As to zoning, it was pointed out

Liquor in Mails Is Followed by U.S. Indictment

7 True Bills Returned in Final Report of Federal Jury.

Returning seven indictments, ranging from theft of government property to sending a nonmailable commodity—whisky—through the mails, the federal grand jury made a final report to Judge E. Marvin Underwood yesterday and adjourned subject to call.

Indicted for sending whisky through the mail was Harry Morris, Atlanta attorney.

Court attaches said they understood the bottles of intoxicants mentioned in the three-count indictment were dispatched by the attorney as Christmas gifts to his friends.

Other indictments include: Jack Oscar Foster, charged with stealing five blue serge suits, costing $75, from an express company truck; Ralph E. Jacobs, theft of tools and machinery valued at $160 from the Farm Security Administration area depot; Paul B. Williams, forging a government check for $25.80; James Richard Wilder, transportation of a stolen automobile; and Marvin Brinson, alias Brunson, transporting a stolen motorcycle in interstate commerce.

it is essential to prohibit tall structures within a two-mile radius of the plant, and all were unanimous in their desire to keep the jukes out of the area.

"We want a clean plant with a wholesome atmosphere for all employees," Colonel York said after the meeting. "Plans for the bomber plant call for cafeterias and commissaries so the necessity of other business establishments near by is rather remote.

"The housing and transportation problems are something which require considerable study, and all those who met with me are to make further study on these questions and report back at the next meeting."

Colonel York pointed out it is not known whether it will be advisable to build temporary or permanent houses near the plant, and whether or not they are to be dormitories or residences.

The method of financing these houses is yet to be worked out, he added.

The transportation problem for the bomber plant employees who live only a few miles from the plant must also be worked out before the plant gets into operation, Colonel York said.

Training for employees of the plant will get under way just as soon as a number of men now in the Bell plant at Buffalo, N. Y., return to the city. Schools will be conducted by Atlanta and Fulton county, and Marietta and Cobb county, where labor will be trained in assembling airplanes.

The committee to work out these problems is composed of Colonel E. Randall Jr., district Army engineer; Robert G. Distin, Bell Aircraft representative here; George McMillan, of Cobb county; and Mayor Rip Blair, of Marietta; Frank H. Neely, chairman of the city planning commission; Eugene O'Brien, of the Fulton county planning commission, and Raymond Torres and Elton Drake of the city planning commission.

Strict Labor Plan Set Up in Hawaii

HONOLULU, April 2.—(INS)—A drastic labor control order which freezes wages and prevents bargaining between employers and employees has been enacted by the military government in Hawaii, it was announced tonight.

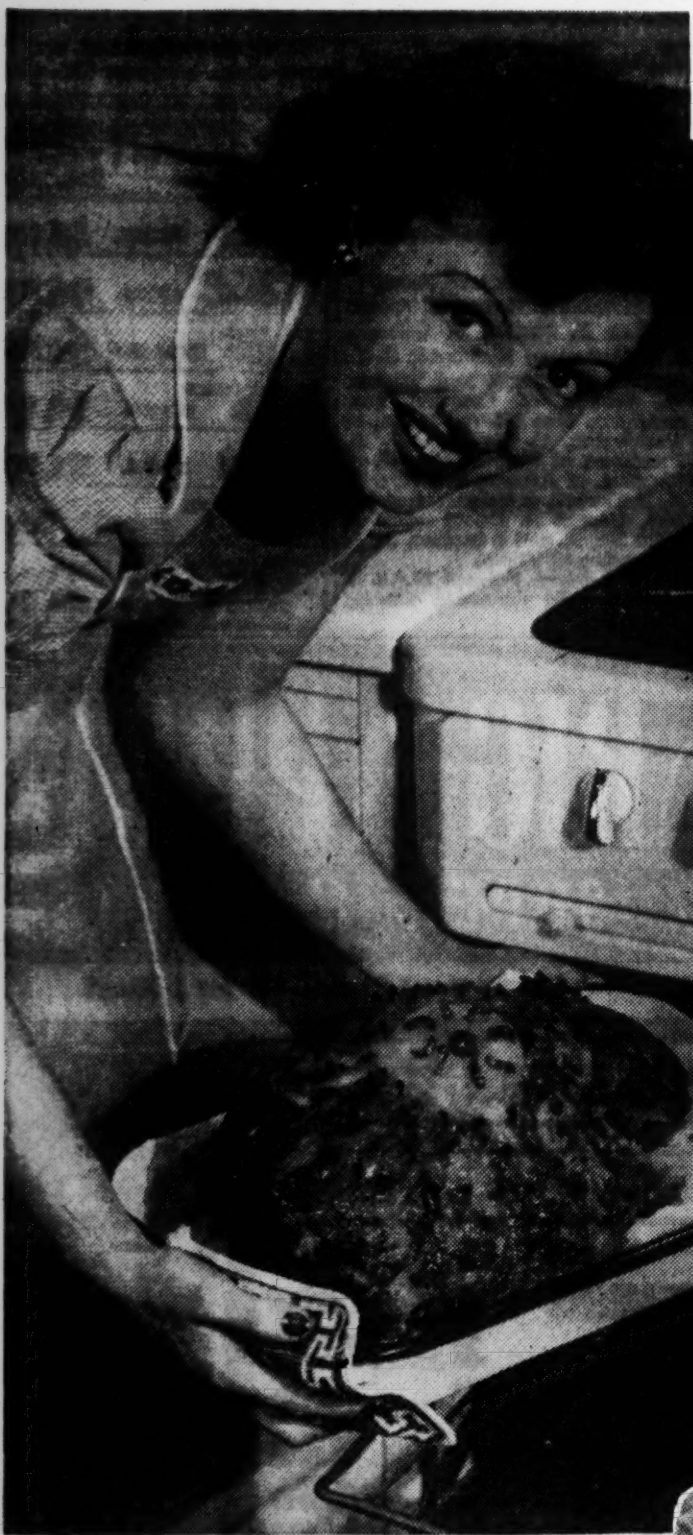

The work week was set at six days of eight hours each, with one day off in every seven. Sunday, however, is regarded just the same as any other day and there is no overtime for working Sunday.

Overtime is to be paid at the rate of time and a half with a ceiling of 56 hours of work permitted in every seven days.

Spring Menus in Your Budget

Easter Sunday, like Christmas and Thanksgiving, calls for a something special in the main meal of the day. It should be a festive meal, for it commemorates a most joyous occasion, the one which is the basis of the Christian faith.

The meal should be bright. Table decorations should be gay, for Easter, too, means the beginning of spring. Bring out your prettiest table linen and your best china and glassware, for nothing but your best is good enough for the fine meal you are going to prepare for the enjoyment of your family and guests on Sunday.

Ham or a roast, usually spring lamb, are almost traditional and are excellent for planning a really elegant meal. Suggested are two menus embodying these two delicious standbys.

If you choose ham, try baking it this way: Allow from 5 to 30 minutes per pound if the ham is the average 10 to 12-pound size. Larger hams require 20 to 25 minutes, and smaller ones or half-hams about 30 minutes per pound. Bake in a slow oven (about 300 degrees).

A specially tenderized ham should be cooked a much shorter time. If you have one, follow cooking directions on the wrapper. Wipe ham with damp cloth and place uncovered in roasting pan. About half an hour before ham is done, remove rind and score fat. Spread with honey and stick with whole cloves and return to oven, basting once with the drippings.

HOW TO PREPARE LAMB

If lamb is the meat you have selected, follow the directions below: Have the butcher remove the meat from the shank end of the leg of lamb. Do not have the felly removed. Season with salt and pepper and, if desired, rub with a clove of garlic. Place skin side down in an uncovered roasting pan. Add no water. Cook in a slow oven (300 degrees), allowing approximately 30 to 35 minutes per pound. Before serving, decorate bone end with a paper frill. The vegetables may be arranged on a platter around the roast, if you like.

WATCHING PENNIES

With the festive menu of Easter day, you may have to watch your pennies during the rest of the week, but these menus have taken that fact into consideration. Meats have been chosen which will leave ample material for building other meals later on. Unless you have a particularly large guest list, there should be either ham or lamb left for at least two other meals in the week.

And even though you are watching your pennies, there is nothing to prevent the rest of your meals in the week being just as interesting, flavorful and nutritious as more expensive ones. All it takes is a little wise planning. Clever use of the leftovers and incorporation of the vegetables which are plentiful and inexpensive at this season into your menus will do the trick.

If you are planning a ham for Sunday you can use some of the left-over meat which clings to the bone when you carve it, to make a delicious ham salad. Run the meat through the food chopper. Add a little sweet pickle relish, chopped celery, grated onion, if desired, and salad dressing to moisten. Serve on toasted whole wheat or rye bread with a hot soup, a jellied tomato or other vegetable salad, fruit and cookies to make a satisfying and nourishing lunch, later in the week.

The ham salad is also excellent if spread on toast and topped with fluffy scrambled eggs as the main dish for lunch or supper. Serve with a fruit cup, potatoes with cheese, crisp cole slaw garnished with tomato wedges, cookies and beverage.

HAM HOCK AND CABBAGE

A meaty ham hock will yield an excellent meal if cooked with green cabbage and served in large pieces right in the dish with the cabbage. To complete this menu, which no one will frown at as a typical "left-over" meal, serve small boiled potatoes, sautéed or stewed tomatoes, a fruit and cheese salad and a custard and cookies for dessert.

If you choose lamb for your Easter piece de resistance, you can find a number of interesting ways to serve what is left. Baked lamb hash is excellent and is made in the following manner: Chop cooked lamb fine. Add 1 finely chopped green pepper. Season with salt and pepper, moisten with leftover gravy and turn into buttered baking dish. Place in oven to heat thoroughly and to brown. Serve with small whole buttered carrots, baked potatoes, a chopped green salad and a fruit pudding. This entire meal can be cooked in your oven.

Slices of the baked lamb may be reheated in the gravy to make a meal, or leftover lamb may be diced in fairly large pieces and made into a lamb stew with the addition of small whole carrots, small whole onions, and small whole potatoes and diced celery or green pepper. Flavor with Worcestershire sauce and incorporate the leftover gravy into the dish to add flavor and food value. A can of green peas may be added, if you like. The same ingredients, with a topping of biscuit dough may be baked as a lamb pie. Only a green salad, to add crispness, and a fruit dessert are necessary to make a meal fit for a king. A word of warning about lamb. Always serve it very hot or very cold. Lamb fat solidifies at a higher temperature than that of most meats, and is not tasty if served lukewarm or at room temperature. Very cold, thinly sliced cold lamb is good in a platter of cold meats.

The thrifty, easily prepared Easter supper menu, suggested elsewhere on the page, is further illustrated that good meals need not be costly.

Ideas From a Cook's Notebook

California Salad.
1 large or 2 small oranges.
1 small clove garlic.
French dressing.
2 avocados.
Lemon juice.
Salt.
Salad greens for garnish.
cup chopped celery.
French dressing.

Peel and segment orange, removing all white membrane, and divide into sections. Peel garlic, crush and rub over inside of small bowl. Plate orange segments in bowl and cover with French dressing. Let stand while preparing remainder of salad. Cut each avocado into halves lengthwise, remove seed and pull skin from fruit. Sprinkle fruit with lemon juice and salt. Place one-half avocado on each of four garnished salad plates. Fill seed cavities with drained orange segments. Sprinkle with chopped celery. Serve French dressing separately. Serves four.

Try this new version of bacon and eggs. Roll out biscuit dough, spread with butter or margarine, and sprinkle with chopped, crisp bacon. Roll it up jelly-roll fashion and bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) for 15 minutes. Serve creamed hard-cooked eggs over the rolls and watch the family eat. Good nutrition, too.

For a festival of color serve cranberry shortcake. Make a sweet cranberry sauce and pour over rounds of cake or warm cup cakes.

Roast leg of lamb means a princely dish on any menu and, in the average household, a good supply of meat for several meals.

A Giant Egg Makes Your Easter Salad

You want something decorative and different in a salad for your Easter table. Something festive but retaining all of the crispness and tartness to make it a favorite of the whole family.

Here is the answer: A giant Easter egg salad frosted in cream cheese or mayonnaise. You make it this way:

The children will be pleased when this "egg" appears, and if there is to be a children's party this Easter time, this giant egg salad will make refreshment time especially delightful.

Easter Egg Salad.
1-1-2 cups of cooked prunes.
1-1-2 cups of chopped celery.
1-2 cup pickle relish.
1-4 teaspoon salt.
1 teaspoon of lemon juice.
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

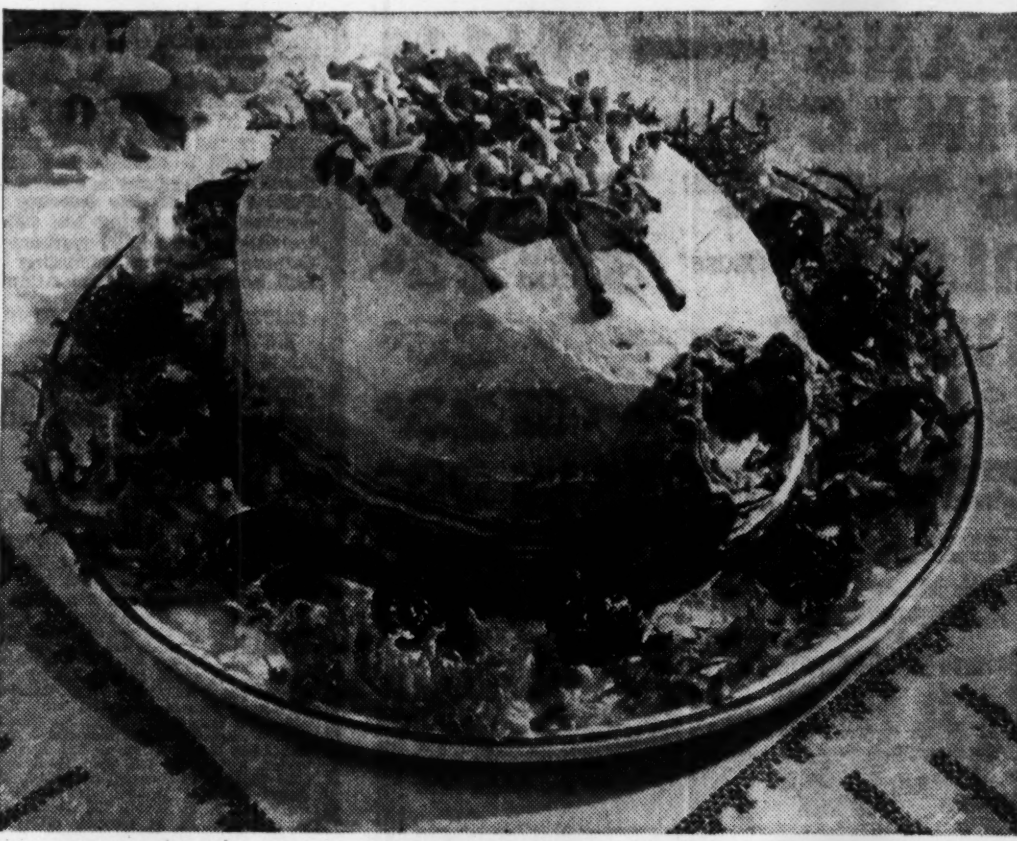

3 cups of hot water.
2 packages orange-flavored gelatin.
3 3-ounce packages cream cheese.

Mayonnaise.
Salad greens and cooked spiced prunes for garnish.

Pit prunes and cut into small pieces. Combine with celery, pickle, relish, salt, lemon juice and Worcestershire sauce and stir to blend. Pour water over gelatin and stir to dissolve. Chill until thick but not firm. Whip until very light and fluffy (placing bowl containing gelatin in pan of ice water while whipping speeds up process.) Fold prune mixture into whipped gelatin. Fill a 1-1-2 quart melon mold (not lid) with mixture and pour remainder into a layer cake pan. Chill until firm, stirring once to keep fruit and vegetables evenly distributed. Melon mold should stand rounded side down while chilling. Unmold gelatin from cake pan onto serving plate to form base. Unmold melon mold or "egg" on top of base. Frost egg with two packages of cheese moistened sufficiently with mayonnaise to press through pastry tube. Garnish serving plate with salad greens and spiced prunes. If decorations are not desired, "egg" may be frosted with mayonnaise instead of cheese. Serves 10 to 12.

Crisp Foods For Spring Table

The Easter table will look its prettiest if the springtime colors yellow and green appear in the foods, and particularly in the salads. Watercress, endive, green peas, green asparagus, string beans, are among the foods that naturally carry the spring idea. The man in your life will be first to approve this yellow and green combination—a crunchy, nourishing cabbage slaw mixed through with a dressing of tingling tartness and served with deviled eggs clothed in the same dressing.

This giant frosted "egg" is both decorative and delicious—a special Easter treat for your family and sure to delight the small fry.

Dressing.
1 teaspoon of dry mustard.
1-1-2 teaspoons of sugar.
1-2 teaspoon of salt.
1-4 teaspoon of celery salt.

1-2 cup of salad oil.
3 tablespoons of vinegar.
1-3 cup of condensed tomato soup.

11-2 cups of salad dressing or mayonnaise.
Combine the dry ingredients and salad oil, then add vinegar and tomato soup. Mix this dressing with the prepared salad dressing or mayonnaise.

Stuffed Eggs.
Take six hard-cooked eggs, cut in half lengthwise. Take out yolks of eggs, mash well and add 1-4 teaspoon of salt and three tablespoons of finely chopped ham. Refill whites. Soften 1 teaspoon of gelatin in one tablespoon of cold water, heat until gelatin has dissolved and add this to 3-4 cup of the tomato salad dressing. Chill until dressing begins to thicken, then pour over the stuffed eggs. Chill until dressing is glazed and firm over the eggs. Garnish top with stuffed olive slices.

AMAZING DISCOVERY

Foods fried the Spry way actually as digestible as if baked or boiled!

EXTRA DELICIOUS, TOO

SO CRISP and delicate-tasting. For purer Spry lets you get the FULL, rich, natural flavor of foods instead of dulling it as ordinary shortenings may. Enjoy these wonderful Spry-fried foods today and every day. For remember, they're easy to digest, so digestible even a child can eat them!

TRY THESE CRISPY CORN AND HAM FRITTERS fried the digestible Spry way

1 cup sifted flour.
1 egg beaten.
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder.
1/2 cup milk.
2 tablespoons sugar.
1 cup canned whole corn kernels, drained.
1/4 teaspoon salt.
1 cup cooked ham, cubed.
Sift flour with baking powder, sugar and salt. Cut in Spry. Combine egg and milk and add to flour mixture. Add corn and ham and mix. Drop by tablespoons into deep hot Spry (375° F.) and fry about 4 minutes or until brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Serves 6.
Notice their thin, delicate golden crust—their FULL savory flavor. Notice, too, how much pleasanter Spry is to fry with. For Spry's pure and doesn't smoke at correct frying temperature. So remember, don't toast for Spry to smoke before starting to fry!

Remember You can fry with Spry over and over—that's REAL economy. Purer Spry stays clear and sweet after repeated fryings. Just let it cool a little, then strain into empty can. Thus Spry costs very little per frying—another big advantage!

Miss Mattie Corbin, 83, Succumbs at Griffin
Special to THE CONSTITUTION.
GRiffin, Ga., April 2.—Miss Mattie Corbin, 83, a native of Griffin and a teacher in the Griffin schools for 46 years, died at the Strickland Memorial hospital Wednesday. She had been active in civic and religious affairs, particularly church work. Her hip was broken in a fall three weeks ago and she never recovered from the injury.
Miss Corbin was the daughter of the late James W. Corbin and Julia Peck Corbin. She had been an active member of the First Presbyterian church here for 67 years.
Funeral services were held from the First Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon. The Rev. Fulton C. Lytle, pastor, officiated and burial was in Oak Hill cemetery in Griffin.

Surviving are six nieces, Mrs. Harold P. Blanchard, of Griffin; Miss Bessie Corbin, of Atlanta; Mrs. C. C. Hart, of Glendale, Cal.; Mrs. C. M. Everts, Mrs. S. A. M.

Harrison, and Mrs. Laura Porter Hero, of Houston, Texas.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., April 2. Dr. Harry A. Little, head of the department of education at Georgia State College for Women, will address a Laurens county teachers' group on April 4 at Dublin on the workshop program in education.

Gallup Poll Finds: U. S. Favors Union Registration
By GEORGE GALLUP.
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion.
PRINCETON, N. J., April 2.—Representative Vinson's bill to require all labor unions to register with the federal government reflects the sentiment of an overwhelming majority of the American people.
War has brought a stiffening in the country's attitude toward unions. Whereas 75 per cent of the nation's voters with opinions on the subject wanted federal registration of unions three years ago, today 83 per cent do.
Before Pearl Harbor, 73 per cent wanted a law to forbid strikes in war industries; today the number has increased to 86 per cent.
Those results—drawn from surveys of rank-and-file opinions held by the American public—do not necessarily mean that war has made the American public more anti-union. A truer explanation is that these results reflect the public's intense desire to tighten control over all forces connected with war production in such a way as to insure the maximum effort and the minimum of obstruction from organized groups.
The latest test of public sentiment on registration of labor unions was prompted by the fact that congress is now considering the Vinson bill on the subject. Opinion was tested on the following issue:

"Do you think all labor unions should be required to register with the federal government and report the amount of money they take in and spend each year?"
This vote of those with opinions is shown below:
Yes ..... 83%
No ..... 17%
Approximately one voter in every seven (14 per cent) was undecided or without an opinion.
This vote compares with 75 per cent in favor and 25 per cent opposed in a survey on a similar question in March, 1939.

State Education Workers Plan Longer Hours

Labor Extra Period Each Day To Aid War Effort.

Employees of the State Department of Education are going to work an hour longer each day in an effort to speed up the various war activities in which they are engaged, Dr. M. D. Collins, state school superintendent, announced yesterday.

Dr. Collins explained that whereas the department has been closing at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, in the future it will remain open until 5 o'clock. This additional working hour is needed, Dr. Collins said, largely because the department is facing the job of training thousands of workers for defense industries, including the Bell bomber plant near Atlanta.

PRaises Army Health
Major General James C. Magee, surgeon general, said Army health is "marvelous" while here on an inspection trip yesterday.

Army's Health Best in History, Magee Asserts

Absence of Epidemics Cited by Surgeon General Here.

"The health of the Army is far superior to any we have ever had," Major General James C. Magee, surgeon general, said here yesterday while on an inspection trip of the medical supply section of the Fourth Corps Area headquarters at Conley.

General Magee, who also visited Lawson General hospital before leaving for New Orleans, described health in the Army as "marvelous," pointing out that it has escaped serious epidemics such as those of the last war.

The surgeon general said the need for men had caused the Army to lower its physical standards, adding physical requirements would continue to be "liberal in proportion to the demand for men."

He pointed out men in 1-B and 4-F could be allowed to enter the Army, in spite of physical defects, so other able men already in service could be sent to the front.

"We can't use these men in combat, but we can let others go to the front by inducting them," surgeon general stated.

In this statement he did not include those of higher ages, remarking that "you want to see a selective service man about that."

Leaving enough doctors to take care of the civilian population is an important part of the war program, the surgeon general said, pointing out all precautions are being taken to keep the home front well supplied in this respect.

General Magee was accompanied on his trip to the depot by Brigadier General William L. Sheep, commanding general at Lawson; Colonel Sanford W. French, of the Fourth Corps Area, and several other officers. He discussed the depot with Colonel T. L. Holland, commanding officer.

No Immediate Split With Axis Seen for Chile

Duties of Continental Solidarity To Be Fulfilled, Rios Says.

SANTIAGO, Chile, April 2.—(AP) President Juan Antonio Rios indicated in his inaugural address tonight that the new administration of Chile plans no immediate diplomatic break with the Axis.

He hinted that he would make the break only if "the national will" calls for it.

Then the twenty-first president of the republic promised that Chile would "faithfully carry out her duties of continental solidarity."

Chile had worked jointly with Argentina to stall off attempts at the Rio de Janeiro conference last January for a solid American break with Germany, Japan and Italy.

The American republics eventually compromised on a joint resolution recommending that all break with the Axis and Chile and Argentina made it unanimous.

However, neither has broken off relations, and Rios' statement tonight on Chilean foreign policy was foreshadowed by the presence of Argentine Foreign Minister Enrique Ruiz Guinazu at the Rios inaugural ceremonies here.

Moreover, Ruiz Guinazu made a speech to the chamber of deputies yesterday after which half a dozen Communist deputies walked out in protest.

Rios, elected by the "democratic front," a political combination with a platform for democracy and American solidarity, said that "I will keep up the same spirit in government which brought me to it."

The new president expressed hope that the union of pro-democratic groups would "be continued for a dynamic purpose and not to satisfy selfish aims."

India Periled As Japs Land In West Burma

Entire Right of Allied Line Threatened by Sea-Borne Troops.

LONDON, April 2.—(AP)—Japanese troops protected by cruisers and destroyers have landed at Akyab, the chief western Burma port within 100 miles of the Indian frontier, and thus have raised a menace to the whole of the present right Allied Burmese line, a Chinese army spokesman announced today in Chungking. British and Chinese communiques indicated meantime that action afield in central Burma had fallen into a lull on both the right and left Allied anchors, the one about Prome on the Irrawaddy river and the other above Tounghoo in the basin of the Sittang. The report of the enemy's Akyab landing raised the gravest of prospects.

Trail Leads Upward. Between Akyab and the Irrawaddy basin a mountain range intervenes, but a trail leads from the city across the mountains to Minbu, 100 miles north of Prome and only 20 miles below the center of the Burma oil fields at Yenangyaung. A heavy enemy flanking movement over that trail, it was pointed out, might soon make indefensible the present British positions about Prome, aside from putting the oil fields in imminent danger. The enemy naval forces reported to have effected the Akyab landings were presumed to have operated either from fallen Rangoon or from the recently seized Andaman islands in the Bay of Bengal.

The Chinese spokesman said the enemy units comprised two heavy cruisers, three light cruisers, five destroyers, four transports and two supply ships.

Prome Front Quiet.

From the Prome front, the British command reported no substantial change since yesterday and said there had been none other than patrol action.

Already outnumbered, the British forces—English and Scottish troops and some Indians—were faced with a rising threat by traitorous Burmese. Four thousand such mercenaries were officially reported now to be in action in aid of the Japanese on the Prome front alone, 1,000 of them standing on the west bank of the Irrawaddy in a threat to the British right flank.

On the Chinese-held front above Tounghoo, said a Chinese communique from New Delhi, quiet had fallen after the heavy and bloody fighting that preceded the establishment of the present Chinese positions around Nangyun, 12 miles above Tounghoo.

These positions had been formed by the juncture of the Chinese Tounghoo garrison of 8,000 to 10,000 with other Chinese forces to the north. The Tounghoo garrison, said the Chungking army spokesman, for a week was under the assault of 40,000 Japanese.

The Paris radio broadcast during the day assertions that enemy forces had gone up the Sittang to land at Yedashe, six miles above Nangyun and thus behind the main Chinese lines, but there was no confirmation of this.

AROUND Atlanta

C. E. Peppiatt, district manager of United Artists, in Atlanta, has under one emergency operation at the Jackson Memorial hospital in Miami and last night was reported getting along "very well."

Formwalt P. T. A. will sponsor the Dorothy Alexander dance at a group in a dance panorama at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the school auditorium. A ballet, "Kasperle," will be presented during the last half of the program.

Allies Class of Second-Pence de Leon Baptist church will hold its monthly business meeting at 7:30 o'clock next Thursday night.

Tech chapter of Phi Eta Sigma elected 16 Atlanta students who have high scholastic records. They are Albert Almond Jr., J. S. Baldwin, R. H. Case, Moises Cenker, Henry Dick, Leonard Eisenman, Edward Jaenicke, Harold Johnson, Richard Lamb, Gordon Lewis, John Manning, Walter Robinson Jr., C. A. Runyon, Earl Suttles, A. O. White Jr. and Thomas Withorn.

Atlanta Chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in parlor D of the Robert Fulton hotel. Anyone personally interested will be welcomed.

The Governor will address the Atlanta Textile Club at 12:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Piedmont hotel.

Alumni of Kappa Sigma fraternity will hold a luncheon at 12:15 o'clock this afternoon in Davison's tea room.

Cotton manufacturers of the United States will assemble in Atlanta May 1 and 2 for the forty-sixth annual meeting of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association. The session will be devoted to promotion and research work, and to addresses by representatives of the Cotton-Textile Institute, and the National Cotton Council.

John A. Northrup, a partner of J. J. Williamson & Company, of Atlanta, was elected to membership in the New York Cotton Exchange yesterday at a meeting of the board of managers. It was announced in New York.

O. B. Keeler, Atlanta newspaperman, will speak at the weekly luncheon of the Lions Club at 12:15 o'clock this afternoon at the Ansley hotel.

Post No. 1, American Legion, will hold its weekly luncheon meeting at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon at the clubhouse in Piedmont Park. A dance will be given tomorrow night and an open house Sunday afternoon from 5 to 9 o'clock.

Tonight's scheduled meeting of the East Lake Civic Club has been postponed until next Friday night, when recently elected officers will be installed by Charles S. Reid, chief justice of the Georgia supreme court.

A 22 per cent increase in state income tax collections in the first quarter of this year, compared to the same period last year, was announced yesterday by Allen Darden, director of the Revenue Department's income tax unit. Receipts from January 1 to April 1 was $3,677,834. For the same three months of 1941 the total was $3,004,981.

D. C. Black, convict serving sentences totaling 46 years, who escaped from an Oglethorpe county prison camp last October 13, was on his way back there yesterday following his capture by County Detectives John T. Carter and F. C. Thompson. The detectives recognized the fugitive in a car at Alice and Pryor streets and caught him after a struggle.

Used Car Price Ceiling Is Seen

CLEVELAND, April 2.—(AP)—A price ceiling probably will be placed upon used automobiles within a week or two, a price administration official declared today.

Cyrus McCormick III, chief of the OPA's automobile and truck section, told a conference of automobile dealers and ration board representatives plans for the ceiling on used car prices now are being worked out at Washington. "There is no likelihood that rationing will be extended to used cars," McCormick asserted during a question period following the conference.

At the City Hall

A. L. Satterwhite, dismissed from employment as a city truck driver, last week on charges that he obtained $12 from LeRoy Harris, Negro prisoner, to get Harris' prison term reduced, yesterday appealed from the dismissal order and demanded a trial which has been set for 11 o'clock the morning of April 14 before the city personnel board.

Bids of four auditors will be submitted to city council's meeting Monday for auditing city books for 1942. Only four bids, and the finance committee ordered all four up for a vote. Harvey H. Hunt bid $5,750; Osborn & Stribling, $9,000; Respass & Respass, $12,000, and Waite & Kendrick, $25 a day for senior, and $15 a day for junior auditors, plus 10 per cent. Council elects an auditor annually.

H. J. Cates, chief of the sanitary department, was made president of an organization of administrative heads at a meeting last night. J. Sid Tiller, city tax assessor, was elected vice president, and City Comptroller B. Graham West, secretary. By-laws also were approved.

A $650 fund to establish a park area at Candler square, at the intersection of Spring street and Carnegie way, was recommended yesterday to city council by the finance committee. Robert Underwood donated the more than 500 feet of curbing necessary to enclose the area. Alderman L. O. Moseley, of the third ward, announced.

BRAZIL, ELECTRIC RAILWAY. American equipment will be used in electrifying the Sorocabana Railway, which serves rich industrial and agricultural districts in southern Brazil.

A Message from Domino Cane Sugars

The American Sugar Refining Company

TO OUR FRIENDS:

War is going to separate us somewhat—just as it is parting other good friends all over the country.

The War Production Board is planning to have sugar distributed temporarily on a territorial basis. This will mean that for a while Granulated sugar in the familiar Domino Cane Sugar packages may be absent from dealers' shelves in your vicinity. Domino Confectioners, Powdered, Brown, Yellow, Cube and Tablet Sugars in one and two pound refinery sealed cartons still will be available.

Other refineries meanwhile will do their best to help supply your sugar needs, and we will be doing our part to take care of the sugar requirements of other sections of the Nation.

We look forward with pleasure to the complete renewal of our friendship when refined sugar can be distributed again in a normal manner. And we believe, too, when that time comes, you will welcome the return of the entire line of Domino Pure Cane Sugars which you know so well and have used for so many years.

Meantime, while we deeply regret any interruption in our relations, we all realize that this is only incidental to America's big job of winning the war.

4 BIG REASONS WHY YOU'LL ENJOY
THIS GREAT COFFEE!

1. because it's REALLY FRESH COFFEE!
Bokar Coffee is rushed from A&P's roasting ovens to A&P Stores—still in the flavor-sealed coffee bean. Only when you buy, is it ground—and then exactly right for your coffee pot. Fresh coffee means really fresh flavor!

2. because it's
PERFECTLY BLENDED COFFEE!
Bokar is a blend of the finer grades of South American Coffee. The blending is done by A&P's experts who know coffee lovers' tastes—thus you get the finest possible flavor and aroma.

3. because it's
CUSTOM GROUND COFFEE!
Different types of coffee pots bring hot water into contact with ground coffee for different lengths of time. So, it is necessary to have coffee Custom Ground (specially ground) for each type of pot. It takes only a few seconds!

4. because this fine coffee
COSTS YOU SO VERY LITTLE!
Because A&P controls every step—from plantation to you—many extra handling charges and in-between costs are eliminated...you save money! In fact, thousands save up to 10¢ a pound!

U. S. - Mexican Agreement on Claims Sealed

Check for $3,000,000 Handed to Welles as First Payment.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(AP)—Dr. Ezequiel Padilla, foreign minister of Mexico, and Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles formally sealed an agreement today settling long-standing claims of North American citizens resulting from Mexican revolutions and expropriation of agrarian lands.

Earlier Mr. Welles had disclosed that he and Dr. Padilla in a two-hour conference yesterday had reached agreement in principle on other matters under discussion and predicted a speedy end of Mexico's priorities problems. A formal statement will be made before Dr. Padilla's departure, he said.

The foreign minister, acting for his government, handed Mr. Welles a check today for $3,000,000, the first payment required under the claims convention signed here last November 19, by which Mexico eventually will pay this country $40,000,000. With the payment today, Mexico now is credited with a total paid of $6,000,000, leaving $34,000,000 to be discharged at the rate of not less than $2,500,000 annually. Previously Mexico had paid $3,000,000 under a tentative agreement which was credited against the account.
